VII. Approval of Minutes

Moved by Albert LaFleche, supported by Bonnie Cornelius, to approve the minutes of the December 13, 2018 meeting as presented. Motion carried.

VIII. Educational Session – CARF

Lynne Fredlund provided Board members with an overview of the CARF Governance Standards. This Agency will be surveyed by CARF sometime between May 1 and June 30 of this year.

The Agency needs to be accredited by a body such as CARF so the State recognizes the Agency to be in compliance with expected standards of a community mental health program. She notes the area of standards addressing Board governance is the Aspire to Excellence Section. She informed Board members the agency is accredited in 21 programs. Lynne reported one program included in the 21 programs is Clubhouse which was recently transferred to Touchstone for management. Touchstone will now seek independent accreditation through CARF and will have this calendar year to complete the accreditation process.

Lynne Fredlund noted there will be at least two Board members who will meet with the CARF surveyors and possibly more. Lynne Fredlund reported Board Governance contains seven standards which it must meet. Lynne Fredlund reviewed each of the standards and the location of evidence to address each standard. She noted she was unable to find evidence of Code of Ethics signatures for Board members. Gary Nowak suggested a form be developed to present to the Board for signature.

Lynne Fredlund reported binders are developed to address the various standards with copies of any document providing evidence of each standard. Board members participating in the survey process will be provided a copy of the binder prior to their meeting with the surveyor.

Judy Hutchins arrived at 3:20 p.m.

X. January Monitoring Reports

1. Emergency Executive Succession 01-006

Steve Dean inquired as to the summary statement "...staffing restructuring is currently underway. He inquired as to whether Board members are aware of the restructuring. Cathy Meske reports restructuring is always looked at when vacancies occur and the Department continues to fund based on PMPM and also the ABA services have not been covered entirely by the state funding. She reports it is very important to always look at efficiencies when vacancies occur as we must get our budget to match the PMPM.

Moved by Lester Buza, supported by Albert LaFleche, to accept the January monitoring reports as presented. Motion carried.

XI. Board Policy Review and Self Evaluation

1. Emergency Executive Succession 01-006

Board members reviewed the policy. There were no recommended revisions or any further discussion on this policy.

2. Chief Executive Role 03-001

Board members reviewed the policy. There were no recommendations for revisions.

XII. Linkage Reports

1. Northern Michigan Regional Entity (NMRE)

a. Board Meeting December 12, 2018

The minutes of the last Board meeting of the NMRE were distributed with materials at this meeting. Cathy Meske reported budget discussions occurred at this meeting along with SUD budgets. She noted the Veterans Navigator role was also addressed. The NMRE will be relocating to Gaylord in the near future.

XIII. Operation's Report

Nena Sork reviewed the Operation's Report for month ending December 31, 2018. She reports some of the numbers for December will be lower due to the holidays and also staff vacations during the month.

Nena Sork reported effective January 1 the after-hours crisis line was transferred from Third Level to ProtoCall. She reports under the new provider, Masters' Level clinicians field the calls and many of the pre-screens should be diverted. She notes she will be tracking the stats on this over the next few months to determine the success of this goal. She notes the number of hospital prescreens should decrease.

Nena Sork also reported myStrength training occurs next week and the Agency will go live in mid-February. She would like to present this training to the Board after all is up and running. She notes aggregate reports will be able to be retrieved and the reports can be broken down by counties.

XIV. Chair's Report

1. Executive Committee Update

Gary Nowak reported the Executive Committee met in December as there is a requirement for the Director to provide a six-month notice with her retirement from the Agency.

Lisa Anderson reported the job was advertised in all the newspapers in the northern area. It is posted on the Agency's external website. Gary Nowak suggested Lester Buza and Laura Gray be the Consumer Advisory Council representatives to participate in the Selection Committee, if available. The Selection Committee identified in the CEO Search Process may need to be adjusted as there might be members applying for the position which would constitute a conflict of interest. He reports the candidates will be vetted and four applicants identified by the Selection Committee will be interviewed by the full board. Lisa Anderson reported any external applicants will be requested to fill out an agency application so some preliminary background checks can be conducted prior to interviews being scheduled.

XV. Director's Report

1. NEMROC Update

Cathy Meske reported the NEMROC contract has been signed; however, there was some challenges identified in past practice and our current expectations for the transition from consumers moving from employment in enclaves to competitive integrated employment. Cathy Meske reviewed the issues of concern noting the new contract is drafted providing incentives for accomplishing various goals.

Currently 33 individuals are provided employment services through NEMROC with 22 of those individuals working in an enclave. She reported the contract provides incentive dollars for work toward establishing employment options outside of the enclave practices and where individuals employed would be paid from the employer where the services are being provided. Currently NEMROC is the employer of record for these 22 individuals. She reports the letter received from the NEMROC Board noting their concerns will be filed with the contract correspondence.

2. Touchstone LLC

Cathy Meske reports the transition of clubhouse services has transitioned nicely. She reports the new provider has hired three of the previous staff from Clubhouse. They are still looking for a director with a potential candidate identified.

3. OPEIU

Cathy Meske reported Charles Terry past away around the holidays and flowers were sent from the Board and Staff of Northeast to the OPEIU office.

4. Director of Department

Cathy Meske reported Governor Gretchen Whitmer appointed Robert Gordon as the new director for the Michigan department of Health and Human Services. He was previously associated with President Obama serving as acting deputy director at the U.S. Office of Management and Budget and was also involved in the U.S. Department of Education.

Gary Nowak inquired about Lynda Zeller. Cathy Meske noted Ms. Zeller is not with the Department any longer and now works for the Michigan Health Endowment Fund.

THE LEGAL BASIS OF RIGHTS

OBJECTIVES:

As a result of reading this section you will be able to:

- Understand the rights guaranteed to all United States citizens
- Understand the rights guaranteed to all persons receiving mental health services in Michigan

Key Points:

- Persons who receive mental health services have the same rights as you. It is important to understand where rights come from, what they are, and what additional rights are granted to recipients of mental health services in Michigan.

You have heard, and perhaps used, such expressions as: “I know my rights!,” “That’s against my rights!,” or “I have the right to do that!” In our democratic society, rights are extremely important, particularly when we think ours have been violated! A right is defined as:

“That which a person is entitled to have, to do, or to receive from others, within the limits prescribed by law”¹

Therefore, in order to qualify as a “right,” something must be defined by law, and have a legal means of protecting it.

The “rights” described in this module are some that are protected by the Constitution of the United States, the Michigan Constitution, or by Federal and State laws such as the American with Disabilities Act or the Michigan Mental Health Code. Remember, the people you care for still have these rights, even though they are receiving mental health services. Some of these include:

-The Right to Religious Expression

- To practice the religion of one’s choice
- Not to attend any religious services against one’s wishes
- Not to be discriminated against based upon one’s religious beliefs

-The Right to Freedom of Speech

- To speak freely and to write, or express, one’s views without restrictions
- To make and receive phone calls, in private
- To send and receive mail without censorship

-The right not to be discriminated against because of race, sex, national origin, or disability

-The right to vote

-The right to have a free public education

The Michigan Mental Health Code says that persons who receive mental health services in Michigan have some additional rights to assure that they receive mental health services suited to their condition in a humane environment in the least restrictive setting. The “Code” also says that, under certain circumstances, some of these additional rights may be limited.

The additional rights granted by the Code are:

- The right to be free from abuse or neglect
- The right to independent evaluations and consultations, and to see a private physician or healthcare professional at any reasonable time
- The right to be treated with dignity, to be treated without discrimination, to have privacy, to practice one’s religion, and to get paid for work that is done
- The right to send and receive mail; have visitors, use the telephone, and get legal advice

- The right to have information about the person receiving treatment kept confidential
- The right to have access to information contained in the clinical record²
- The right to a hearing, to be represented by an attorney, and to discharge planning that assures appropriate mental health services are provided in the least restrictive setting
- The right to be treated in a safe, sanitary, and humane environment
- The right to access his or her own funds, and to be able to use them as they see fit
- The right to have personal property safely kept and to have any rules regarding any limitations on using it clearly stated, consistent, and posted in a place where all can see
- The right not to be forced or coerced to take medication, or take more medication than desired, and the right to be provided with informed consent regarding medication and possible side effects
- The right to exercise his or her civil rights, which includes:
 - To conduct business affairs to maximum extent possible,
 - To be presumed competent unless a guardian has been appointed,
 - To not be subject to illegal search and seizure, and
 - To participate in an election.
- The freedom of movement of a recipient shall not be restricted more than necessary to provide mental health services, to prevent injury to himself, herself or others, or to prevent substantial property damage
- The right to have a written plan of service developed through a person-centered planning process. Person-centered planning means a process for planning and supporting the individual receiving services that builds upon the individual’s capacity to engage in activities that promote community life and that honors the individual preferences, choices, and abilities. The person-centered planning process involves families, friends, and professionals, as the individual desires or requires
- The right to refuse treatment unless the law requires it and a court orders it

As indicated above, the Mental Health Code says that some of the rights it grants to recipients can’t be limited. The “unlimitable” rights are:

- Freedom from abuse and neglect
- Treatment suited to condition
- Dignity and respect
- Safe, sanitary, humane treatment environment
- IPOS developed using a person-centered planning process
- Contact with attorneys regarding legal matters

The Code also provides that some rights it gives can be modified under certain circumstances. These are:

- Communication by mail, phone, visits
- Personal property
- Money
- Freedom of movement
- Confidentiality/privilege

² The Mental Health Code requires that, upon request, a competent adult recipient (meaning the recipient has no guardian) be given information entered in their record after March 29, 1996, without exception (MHC 330.1748 (4)).

- Consent to treatment and they can only be modified through the use of restrictions or limitations.

Restrictions are made for all the recipients in a particular setting and are determined by policy. For example, there may be a restriction on the hours that a phone call can be made or what personal items a recipient can have in the home. Restrictions must be clearly posted where everyone can see them.

Limitations are placed on an individual and can only be made through the person-centered planning process, and reviewed and approved by the Behavior Support Committee. In the recipient's record you should find:

- A description of the behavior and the limitation
- A time limit on the limitation
- An indication that previous measures to stop the behavior were unsuccessful
- An indication that the limitation is the least restrictive or intrusive action possible
- Measures to reduce or eliminate the behavior (this is the action you will take when the behavior occurs)

ABUSE AND NEGLECT

OBJECTIVES:

As a result of reading this section you will be able to:

- Understand what constitutes abuse and neglect
- Understand what to do in order to comply with laws requiring of abuse and neglect

Key Points:

- Physical management may only be used as an emergency intervention in order to prevent a recipient from harming himself, herself, or others
- Physical management shall not be included as a component in a behavior support plan
- Prone immobilization of a recipient for the purpose of behavior control is prohibited, unless implementation of physical management techniques, other than prone immobilization, is medically contraindicated and documented in the recipient's record
- Time out, defined as VOLUNTARY response to a therapeutic suggestion to a recipient to remove himself or herself from a stressful situation to another area to regain control
- Seclusion and restraint are prohibited

The definitions of Abuse and Neglect are found in the Administrative Rules. These rules supplement the Mental Health Code and have the force of law. The Abuse and Neglect definitions have several classes and are based upon the action taken and the severity of the injury to the recipient. It is your responsibility to know the definitions and to make sure that none of the recipients in your care is ever abused or neglected.

The abuse or neglect of a recipient will not be tolerated! It is important to understand what is meant by abuse and neglect, to recognize a situation that is abusive or neglectful, and to know what the law requires you to do when you become aware that a recipient has been abused or neglected.

TYPES OF ABUSE

Class I Abuse:

- A non-accidental act or provocation of another to act which caused or contributed to the death, or sexual abuse of, or serious physical harm to a recipient

“Sexual abuse” means any of the following:

- (i) Criminal sexual conduct as defined by section 520b to 520e of 1931 PA 318, being MCL 750.520b to MCL 750.520e involving an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider and a recipient
- (ii) Any sexual contact or sexual penetration involving an employee, volunteer, or agent of a department operated hospital or center, a facility licensed by the department under section 137 of the act or an adult foster care facility and a recipient
- (iii) Any sexual contact or sexual penetration between and involving an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider and a recipient for whom the employee, volunteer, or agent provides direct services.

“Sexual contact” means the intentional touching of the recipient’s or employee’s intimate part or the touching of the clothing covering the immediate area of the recipient’s or employee’s intimate parts, if that intentional touching can reasonably be construed as being for the purpose of sexual arousal or gratification, done for a sexual purpose, or in a sexual manner for any of the following:

- (i) Revenge
- (ii) To inflict humiliation
- (iii) Out of anger

“Sexual penetration” means sexual intercourse, cunnilingus, fellatio, anal intercourse, or any other intrusion, however slight, or any part of a person’s body, or of any object into the genital or anal openings of another person’s body, but emission of semen is not required.

“Serious physical harm” means physical damage suffered by a recipient that a physician or registered nurse determines caused or could have caused death of a recipient, caused the impairment of his or her bodily functions, or caused the permanent disfigurement of a recipient.

Further definitions of abuse may also be found in the Adult Protective Services Act³

Class II Abuse:

- A non-accidental act or provocation of another to act that caused or contributed to non-serious physical harm to a recipient, or an act that could cause a recipient to suffer pain.

“Non-serious physical harm” means physical damage or what could reasonably be construed as pain suffered by a recipient that a physician or registered nurse determines could have caused, or contributed to, the death of a recipient, the permanent disfigurement of a recipient, or an impairment of his or her bodily functions.

- A non-accidental act or provocation of another to act that caused or contributed to emotional harm to a recipient.

“Emotional Harm” means: impaired psychological functioning, growth, or development of a significant nature as evidence by observable physical symptomatology or as determined by a mental health professional.

- An action taken on behalf of a recipient by a provider who assumes the recipient is incompetent, even though a guardian has not been appointed, that results in substantial economic, material, or emotional harm to the recipient.

- Exploitation of a recipient by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider.

“Exploitation” means an action by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider that involves the misappropriation or misuse of a recipient’s property or funds for the benefit of an individual or individuals other than the recipient.

- The use of unreasonable force on a recipient with or without apparent harm.

“Unreasonable force” means: physical management or force that is applied by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider to a recipient in one or more of the following circumstances:

- (i) There is no imminent risk of serious or non-serious physical harm to the recipient, staff, or others.
- (ii) The physical management used is not in compliance with techniques approved by the provider and the responsible mental health agency.
- (iii) The physical management used is not in compliance with the emergency interventions authorized in the recipient’s individual plan of service.
- (iv) The physical management or force is used when other less restrictive measures were possible but not attempted immediately before the use of physical management or force.

³ Public Act 519 of 1982

“Physical management” means a technique used by staff as an emergency intervention to restrict the movement of a recipient by direct physical contact in order to prevent the recipient from harming himself, herself, or others.

Class III Abuse:

- Use of language or other means of communication to degrade, threaten, or sexually harass a recipient.

“Degrade” means to cause somebody a humiliating loss of status or reputation or cause somebody a humiliating loss of self-esteem; make worthless; to cause a person to feel that they or other people are worthless and do not have the respect or good opinion of others. (syn) degrade, debase, demean, humble, humiliate. These verbs mean to deprive of self-esteem or self-worth; to shame or disgrace. Degrading behavior shall be further defined as any language or epithets that insult the person's heritage, mental status, race, sexual orientation, gender, intelligence, etc.

“Threaten” means to tell someone that you will hurt them or cause problems if they do not do what you want.

“Sexual harassment” means sexual advances to a recipient, requests for sexual favors from a recipient, or other conduct or communication of a sexual nature toward a recipient.

Examples of abuse:

- Any sexual contact with recipient. This means:
 - Engaging in sexual intercourse with a recipient, even if the recipient says it's ok
 - Oral sex of any nature with a recipient, even if the recipient says it's ok
 - Touching the intimate parts of a recipient for sexual gratification, even if the touching occurs over the recipient's clothes
- Hitting, slapping, biting, poking, or kicking a recipient or taking any other action which would cause pain to a recipient
- Use of weapons on a recipient
- Swearing at, using foul language, racial or ethnic slurs, or using other means of communication to degrade or threaten a recipient
- Sexually harassing a recipient
- Using the recipient's “bridge card” to purchase something for yourself
- Making remarks which could be emotionally harmful to a recipient
- Using a recipient's funds for your own purposes, for use in the home in general, or for other recipients
- Encouraging or prompting others (staff or recipients) to commit any actions that could be described as abusive

Types of Neglect

Neglect Class I means either of the following:

- (i) Acts of commission or omission by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider that result from noncompliance with a standard of care or treatment required by law, rules, policies, guidelines, written directives, procedures, or individual plan of service and cause or contributes to the death, or sexual abuse of, or serious physical harm to recipient.

(ii) The failure to report apparent or suspected abuse Class I or neglect Class I of a recipient.

Neglect Class II means either of the following:

(i) Acts of commission or omission by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider that result from noncompliance with a standard of care or treatment required by law, rules, policies, guidelines, written directives, procedures, or individual plan of service and that cause or contribute to non-serious physical harm or emotional harm to a recipient.

(ii) The failure to report apparent or suspected abuse Class II or neglect Class II of a recipient.

Neglect Class III means either of the following:

(i) Acts of commission or omission by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider that result from noncompliance with a standard of care or treatment required by law, rules, policies, guidelines, written directives, procedures, or individual plan of service that either placed or could have placed a recipient at risk of physical harm or sexual abuse.

(ii) The failure to report apparent or suspected abuse Class III or neglect Class III of a recipient.

No actual harm has to occur to a recipient for Class III Neglect to be substantiated. It is only required that the recipient be placed at risk of harm.

Further definitions of neglect may be found in the Adult Protective Services Act

Examples of Neglect:

- Leaving a recipient, who is not able to care for himself, unattended
- Not providing the proper medication, the correct dosage of a medication, or leaving the medication cabinet unlocked
- Be aware of, or suspecting, that an abusive or neglectful situation is occurring and not reporting it to the Rights Office and to your supervisor
- Not addressing a problem behavior in the treatment plan (i.e. self-abusive behavior) which may result in harm to the recipient or to others
- Not reporting an action by another staff which you suspect or know is abusive or neglectful

REPORTING ABUSE AND NEGLECT

When you see or hear about a recipient being abused or neglected, it is important that you take action quickly. Protecting the recipient is your primary responsibility. AND... your failure to report abuse and neglect could result in you being charged with neglect also! At the time of shift change, staff leaving should tell you about any injuries that happened on their shift or earlier shifts. They should have documented these as well. During your first hour on duty, check to see that anything reported to you verbally was also recorded in the person's chart. Observe the people in your care for signs or changes in their condition. Look for bruises, bumps, limping, or other obvious signs of pain or illness. This should also be done when the recipient first comes to you or returns from another setting. If you notice anything that is not explained or charted:

- Immediately report it to the designated supervisor;
- Immediately take action to protect, comfort, and get any necessary treatment for any injured person in your care;
- Record the information on an Incident Report. The first staff person who sees an unexplained injury must report it and record it. Include any signs that abuse or neglect might have been involved. Your trainer or Rights Advisor will show you how to correctly complete an Incident Report form;
- Give the report to a supervisor as soon as possible, but never later than the end of your shift;
- Report any injuries to oncoming staff.

In addition to all the reporting requirements above, the Michigan Department of Health & Human Services, Bureau of Children and Adult Licensing is responsible for investigating alleged adult foster care administration rule and/or statutory violations – including abuse and neglect – in adult foster care homes. You may also file a complaint with this bureau and can do this in any of the following ways:

- Mail the Complaint to: Michigan Department of Health & Human Services, Bureau of Children and Adult Licensing, Complaint Intake Unit 7109 W. Saginaw, 2nd Floor, PO Box 30650, Lansing, MI 48909-8150

Mandatory Reporting of Abuse or Neglect

•6•1 APPLICATION:

All staff

•6•2 OUTLINE / NARRATIVE:

The procedure is directed to the fundamental principle that no consumer shall be abused or neglected by an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider.

1. In the event that an employee, volunteer, or agent of a provider has reasonable cause to suspect that a consumer has been abused and/or neglected that individual must immediately report the incident to the Recipient Rights Officer. Failure to report immediately may result in disciplinary action.
2. That same individual then must take immediate action to protect, comfort, and get any necessary treatment for any injured person in their care.
3. In the case of suspected sexual abuse, care must be taken to protect the clothing of the consumer and the consumer should not be bathed/showered until after being examined by a physician (clothing and the examination's findings are considered part of the evidence).
4. After immediate care has been provided to the consumer and the supervisor has been notified, an incident report (IR) is then to be completed. Include any signs that abuse or neglect may have been involved. Give the report to the supervisor as soon as possible, but never later than the end of the shift on which the incident occurred. The supervisor shall verbally notify the Recipient Rights Officer when injuries are involved and shall route the IR immediately,
5. For criminal abuse incidents, the supervisor is to contact the Clinical Services Director and Supports Coordinator.
6. The Supports Coordinator will then assure that the Director, Recipient Rights Officer, Guardian, and appropriate police department are notified of the alleged incident.
7. The Supports Coordinator will then complete the Report on Recipient Abuse form and forward one copy to the police, one to the Recipient Rights Officer, and place one copy in the consumer's record.

8. The Recipient Rights Officer will then assure that Protective Services and the Foster Care Licensing Consultant are notified first by phone then, within the agreed upon time frame, in writing.
9. An investigation will be conducted by the Recipient Rights staff according to Personnel policy 3800, Recipient Rights System.
10. A copy of this policy and procedure shall be given to all new employees, volunteers, and providers and reviewed with them during their first day of employment for the purpose of making sure that everyone who has responsibility to our consumers has a full understanding of all its provisions. The Recipient Rights staff will insure that this policy and procedure is called to the attention of all employees, volunteers, and providers at least annually.

CONFIDENTIALITY

OBJECTIVES:

As a result of reading this section you will be able to:

- Define confidentiality and informed consent
- Identify rules you must observe when sharing information about a recipient
- Recognize instances when confidentiality has been violated

Key Points:

- Information shall not be disclosed unless it is germane to the authorized purpose
- For recipients with a guardian and those under age 18, information can be withheld if a physician determines it would be detrimental

The right to confidentiality is one of the most important rights granted to recipients. Each mental health service provider is required to have policies and procedures which provide for maintaining the confidentiality of those receiving services. Each recipient is entitled to confidentiality when seeking the services of a lawyer, a doctor, or other mental health services professional. In order to assure the confidentiality of recipients, all staff must protect written and unwritten information gained while providing mental health services.

The Mental Health Code requires that:

- Every recipient is informed about the law requiring confidentiality
- A record is maintained of any information about the recipient that is disclosed. This record must indicate what information was released, to whom it was released, and the reason for the release
- Under certain circumstances, the release of information may be delayed, or even withheld. However, a competent adult recipient is entitled to receive any and all information contained in his or her record subsequent to March 28, 1996.

Some information can be provided to legal and medical personnel who provide services to the recipient, without obtaining a release of information. However, this information is limited to that which relates to the services being provided.

There are times when it is appropriate to disclose information about a recipient. Some of these are:

- When the person agrees, by signing a release of information and the person who requested the information has a legitimate need for the information
- To mental health, or other public agencies, where there is a strong chance that the recipient or others will be seriously hurt if no action is taken. The agency director is consulted before any information is given
- To other agencies such as Social Security or the Department of Health and Human Services when necessary in order for service providers to receive payment
- When required by court order, or to comply with the law
- To a prosecuting attorney when necessary to participate in proceedings governed by the Mental Health Code, for example, a civil commitment proceeding
- To the recipient's attorney when the recipient has given written consent
- To the surviving spouse of a recipient in order to apply for and receive benefits, but only if the surviving spouse has been appointed personal representative of the estate by the court

Confidentiality is a right of every recipient of mental health services. Everyone involved with the delivery of services must work to maintain and protect this right. All information in a person's record, and any information about the person discovered while providing services, is confidential. Written consent of the recipient, or the recipient's guardian, is required before giving out any information.

A recipient cannot simply agree to have confidential information released. In order for a release of information to be valid, it must be given with Informed Consent⁴. This means the recipient:

- Has the legal capacity to give consent
- Is not pressured in any way to give consent
- Is able to understand what information he/she is agreeing to release
- Understands the risks, benefits and consequences of agreeing, or not agreeing, to the release of the information requested

A person who has a guardian is not legally capable of giving informed consent. In most cases involving children, informed consent must be obtained from their parents. Generally, decisions about release of confidential information are made by clinical or management staff. However, there are many times when you must make immediate decisions regarding the release of a recipient's confidential information. Don't let anyone pressure you. Even if someone gets upset because you don't give out information they were entitled to, your first responsibility is to the recipient. Each agency has its own rules to ensure employees follow confidentiality guidelines. Sometimes, you may not be aware that you are violating the confidentiality of recipients. If you have questions about releasing information, or whether someone is authorized to receive information, check with your supervisor.

The following items are considered confidential:

- Recipient's name and any personal identifiers
- Whether or not a person is receiving services
- All information in the record
- Photographs/videotapes/audio-recordings
- Any information learned while providing service

This information cannot be released unless there is a signed release of information.

Protecting confidentiality means that, when you are not at work, you cannot talk to anyone about what happened with a recipient. When at work, you cannot discuss any information with those who are not authorized to receive it. It also means that you have a responsibility to make sure that unauthorized persons are not able to identify recipient.

Telephone inquiries requesting information about a recipient should be responded to with providing a general statement that staff will take the information and if the individual is a recipient, staff will pass it on to the treating professional. If the individual is not a recipient, the information will be shredded. If you are in doubt as to what to do, refer the caller to your supervisor or to the rights office.

Agency protocol regarding providing information to the police should be responded to with a polite response that per the Mental Health Code, staff cannot provide any information without a signed release of information or a judge-signed court order. If staff requested police assistance, staff may provide the justifying information as to why law enforcement was called. For example, a recipient has left the adult foster care home and cannot be located. Identification may be given to assist the police in their search. For additional information, refer to the Agency's policy on confidentiality.

Michigan Protection and Advocacy (MPAS) may have access to recipients' records of all of the following:

- A recipient, if the recipient, the recipient's guardian with authority to consent, or a minor recipient's parent with legal and physical custody of the recipient has consented to the access.
- A recipient, including a recipient who has died or whose location is unknown, if all of the following apply:
 - Because of mental or physical condition, the recipient is unable to consent to the access.
 - The recipient does not have a guardian or other legal representative, or the recipient's guardian is the state.
 - The protection and advocacy system has received a complaint on behalf of the recipient or has probable cause to believe based on monitoring or other evidence that the recipient has been subject to abuse or neglect.
- A recipient who has a guardian or other legal representative if all of the following apply:
 - A complaint has been received by the protection and advocacy system or there is probable cause to believe the health or safety of the recipient is in serious and immediate jeopardy.
 - Upon receipt of the name and address of the recipient's legal representative, the protection and advocacy system has contacted the representative and offered assistance in resolving the situation.
 - The representative has failed or refused to act on behalf of the recipient.

Listed here are some examples of how you may unknowingly violate confidentiality:

- Talking about recipients outside of work
- Referring to recipients by name when discussing work with family or friends
- Giving information over the phone to persons who say they are relatives
- Taking photographs or videotapes of recipients without permission
- Listening in on a recipient's phone calls

- Discussing information in a recipient's record with staff from another home or with other mental health or service professionals who are not authorized to receive the information

INVESTIGATING RIGHTS ALLEGATIONS

OBJECTIVES:

As a result of reading this section you will be able to:

- Understand the role of the Office of Recipient Rights
- Understand the process whereby allegations of right violations are investigated
- Understand the rights of appeal provided by the Mental Health Code

Key Points:

- If you become aware that a recipient's rights may have been violated, YOU MUST REPORT this information to the Rights Office. Anyone can file a complaint on behalf of a recipient.
- The decision about what happens to a staff person who has committed abuse or neglect, or otherwise violated the rights of a recipient, rests with the employer.
- The standard of preponderance of evidence is necessary in order to substantiate a violation of a recipient right. Preponderance of evidence means a standard of proof which is met when based upon all the available evidence, it is more likely that a right was violated than not; given the greater weight of evidence, not as to quantity (number of witnesses), but as to quality (believability and greater weight of important facts provided).

THE OFFICE OF RECIPIENT RIGHTS

Most employees do not intentionally abuse, neglect, or violate the rights of recipients. The Office of Recipient Rights protects recipients from the few that do. Each Department of Health and Human Services hospital or center, Community Mental Health Services Program, and licensed private hospital has a Recipients Rights Officer. The Rights Officer from the local Community Mental Health Board reviews all allegations of rights violations and all incident reports involving recipients in their jurisdiction. The Office may investigate, and can make recommendations about remedial action to the service provider and the responsible Community Mental Health Service Program. Rights Officers often serve as advocates for individuals and groups of recipients. You can contact the local Rights Office at:

(989) 358-7847 Ruth Hewett

Roles of the Rights Office

- Prevention – ORR provides consultation on rights related matters to staff and recipients. If you have a rights question, call us!
- Training – We provide numerous types of recipient rights training to staff, recipients, guardians, and others.
- Monitoring – ORR visits each service site at least annually in order to ensure the site is protecting the rights of the recipients receiving services there.
- Complaint Resolution – ORR receives, reviews, and investigates complaints of alleged rights violations. Complaints are received from a wide variety of sources.

THE INVESTIGATIVE PROCESS

When an investigation into alleged rights violations is started, the Rights Officer will have access to all documentation, and any staff, necessary to complete the investigation. You are expected to answer questions about work-related matters asked by the Rights Officer, a representative of your provider, the State Police, Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) authorities who are conducting a review investigation.

The Mental Health Code requires that an investigation be completed within 90 day from the receipt of a complaint. A “Report of Investigative Findings” will be given to the Director of the Community Mental Health agency and to the service provider. It is up to the CMH Director to issue a report summarizing the investigation to the complainant and the recipient within 10 business days after receiving the Rights Officer’s investigative report.

Each provider should have policies and procedures for dealing with offenses. These should emphasize the seriousness of improper actions. Since procedures vary among providers, check with your supervisor or look in your policy or personnel manual.

THE APPEAL PROCESS

Upon completion of a recipient right investigation and the issuance of a summary report, the recipient, a legal representative of a recipient, and, of course, the person who made the complaint, (if that is someone other than the recipient) all have the right to appeal the decision.

This appeal can be made for the following reasons:

1. The findings of the investigation are inconsistent with the law, facts, rules, policies, or guidelines
2. The action, or plan of action, is inadequate
3. The investigation was untimely

Unless they were the complainant, staff are not eligible to file an appeal even if they were the subject of the investigation.

If the action of your local Rights Office does not solve the problem, you can contact the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services Office of Recipient Rights. If you wish to do so, write or call:

Office of Recipient Rights
Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
Lewis Cass Building
Lansing, MI 48913
(800) 854-9090

OTHER INVESTIGATIVE AGENCIES

Depending on the circumstances, several other organizations may investigate allegations of abuse or neglect. When there is a question of abuse, the Adult, or Child, Protective Services Divisions of the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services may be involved. If your home may have violated state standards, or if it may not be suitable for a particular recipient, a Michigan Department of Health and Human Services licensing consultant may investigate. Finally, if it is believed that a criminal act has occurred, the State Police or local law enforcement agency may become involved.

Recipient Rights Advisory Committee

The recipient rights advisory committee shall do all of the following:

1. Meet at least semiannually or as necessary to carry out its responsibilities.
2. Maintain a current list of members' names to be made available to individuals upon request.
3. Maintain a current list of categories represented to be made available to individuals upon request.

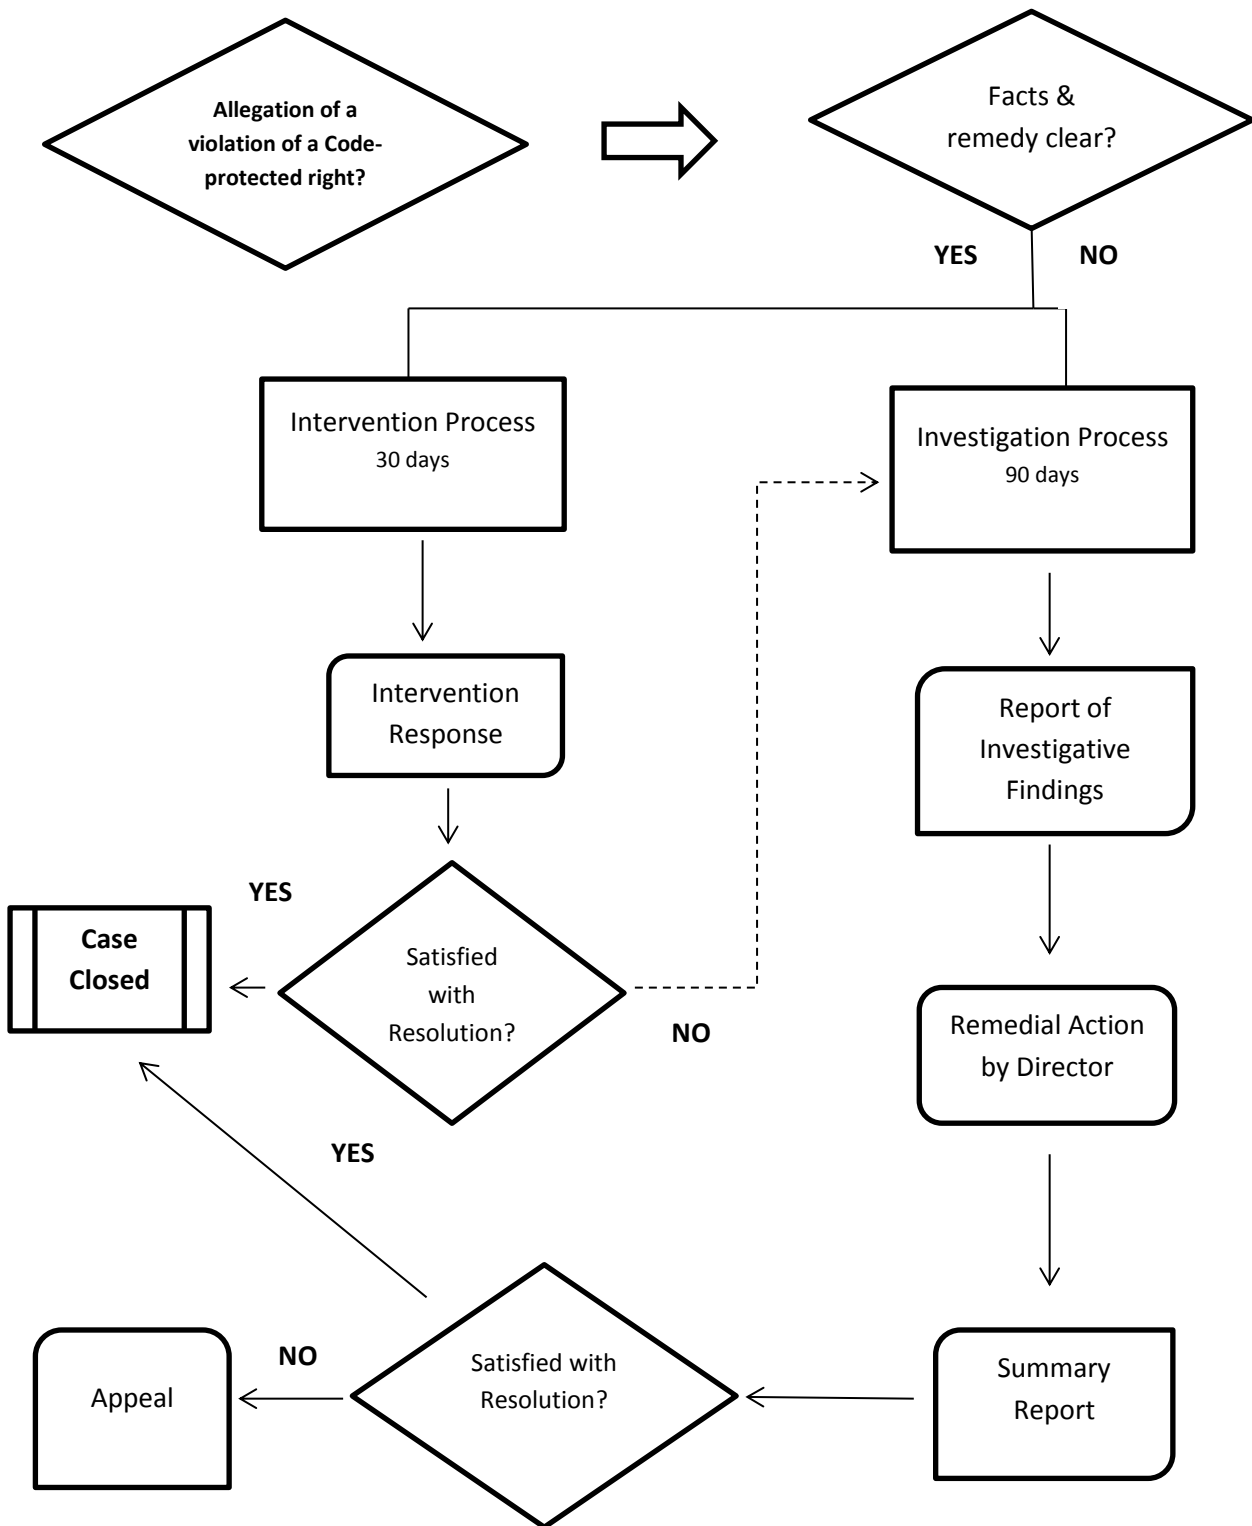

4. Protect the office of recipient rights from pressures that could interfere with the impartial, even-handed, and thorough performance of its functions.
5. Recommend candidates for the position of rights officer to the agency director, and consult with the agency director regarding any proposed dismissal of the rights officer.
6. Serve in an advisory capacity to the agency director and recipient rights officer.
7. Review and provide comments on the annual rights report.
8. Serve as the appeals committee for a recipient's appeal.

Notification of Rights

Rights are presented and communicated to the recipients through the following methods:

- Limited English Proficiency (LEP) poster located in lobby of NeMCMHA
- Right to language interpretation, which is provided at no cost, for those consumers who do not speak English
- A video entitled “Your Rights” is available for viewing on a monitor in the NeMCMHA lobby
- A booklet will be provided entitled “Your Rights When Receiving Mental Health Services in Michigan,” available in English, Hebrew, and Spanish, written at the 4th grade reading level.
- Cassettes are provided entitled “Your Rights When Receiving Mental Health Services in Michigan,” in English and Spanish (4th grade level)
- Booklet entitled “Community Mental Health Guide to Services” is provided in English (4th grade level)
- If the condition of the individual upon intake is such that explanation is not feasible, then notification will be provided via mail
- Rights are reviewed annually for individuals who are in the program for longer than one (1) year. Staff will read the “Your Rights” booklet to individuals served in CMH licensed homes who are unable to read and who have guardians. Consents (DD) and Request for Services are valid for one (1) year, then renewed. All rights information is presented again. The plan of service documents the receipt of rights information
- Rights are available at all times for review and clarification. A summary of rights guaranteed by the Mental Health Code and Administrative Rules is available in all service site locations, rights language is included in contracts, and recipient rights site review forms document compliance

The Recipient Rights Investigation Process

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

OBJECTIVES:

As a result of reading this section you will be able to:

- Understand the rights you have as an employee
- Understand the responsibilities you have as an employee
- Understand the responsibilities of recipients

Key Points:

- You have the rights which protect you from actions based on incorrect or malicious information. There are laws which protect employees when they report rights violations.

EMPLOYEE RIGHTS

The Mental Health Code mandates the complainants, staff of the Office of Recipient Rights, and any staff acting on behalf of a recipient will be protected from harassment or retaliation resulting from recipient rights activities and that appropriate disciplinary action will be taken if there is evidence of these activities.

The Whistleblowers Protection Act (P.A. 469 of 1980) protects employees who report rights violations. This law states that it is illegal for employers in Michigan to discharge, threaten, or otherwise discriminate against you regarding compensation, terms, conditions, locations, or privileges of employment because you, or a person acting on your behalf, reports, or is about to report, a violation, or a suspected violation, of Federal, State, or local laws, rules, or regulations, to a public body. It is illegal for employers in Michigan to discharge, threaten, or otherwise discriminate against you regarding your compensation, terms, conditions, locations, or privileges of employment because you take part in a public hearing, investigation, inquiry, or court action. This law does not diminish or impair either your rights, or the rights of your employer, under any collective bargaining agreement. The Act does not require your employer to compensate you for your participation in a public hearing, investigation, inquiry, or court action. The Act does not protect you from disciplinary action if you make a report to a public body that you know is false. If you believe that your employer has violated this Act you may bring a civil action in a circuit court within 90 days of the alleged violation of this Act. Persons found in violation of this act may be subject to a civil fine of up $500.00. If your employer has violated this Act, the court can order your reinstatement, the payment of back wages, full reinstatement of fringe benefits and seniority rights, actual damages, or any combination of these remedies. The court may also award all, or a portion of, the cost of litigation, including reasonable attorney fees and witness fees to the complainant if the court believes such an award is appropriate.

The Bullard-Plawecki Employee Right to Know Act (P.A. 397 of 1978) requires that you be provided written notice when your employer, or former employer, divulges a disciplinary report, letter of reprimand, or other disciplinary action given to you to someone outside your agency (unless they are representing you). This notice must be sent by first-class mail to the employee's last known address, and must be mailed on or before the day the information is divulged. This act provides you notice only; you cannot stop the agency from divulging the information.

EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES

The additional rights specified by the Code are intended to protect and promote the basic human dignity of recipients. You have the responsibility to treat recipients with dignity and respect and to protect them from harm. Here are the dictionary definitions of dignity and respect:

Dignity: to be treated with esteem, honor, politeness; to be addressed in a manner that is not patronizing, condescending or demeaning; to be treated as an equal; to be treated the way any individual would like to be treated.

Respect: to show deferential regard for; to be treated with esteem, concern, consideration, or appreciation; to protect the individual's privacy; to be sensitive to cultural differences; to allow an individual to make choices.

Here are some examples of how you can promote the dignity and respect of recipients:

- Calling a person by his or her preferred name
- Knocking on a closed door before entering
- Using positive language
- Encouraging the person to make choices instead of making assumptions about what he or she wants
- Taking the person's opinion seriously, including the person in conversations, allowing the person to do things independently or to try new things

However, regulations don't necessarily change how people act. You must constantly remind yourself to treat people with respect. For example, you must address recipients as they wish to be addressed, give them privacy and freedom of choice. Most disrespect is unintentional – you may slip into poor practices without realizing it.

As a service provider you must ensure that the rights of people are respected and protected at all times. That means you are responsible for the following:

- Your own acts, either intentional or accidental
- Your failure to act appropriately or quickly
- Reporting abusive actions of staff to the supervisor and the Rights Officer immediately
- Reporting unsafe conditions to the Rights Officer if you are unable to resolve a situation through your supervisor
- Reporting rights violations to the Rights Officer
- Intervening to stop abusive actions of other staff

RECIPIENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Recipients also have responsibilities. They may be held legally responsible for breaking the law. For example, recipients may be civilly or criminally liable if they deliberately hurt another resident, an employee or any other person, or if they destroy or steal property. Recipients may keep personal property, but are responsible for taking care of it and for protecting it from theft or loss. Recipients also have the responsibility not to interfere with the care or treatment of others.

FAMILY RIGHTS

Families of mental health recipients have some rights specified in the Mental Health Code:

- Family members of recipient shall be treated with dignity and respect

- Family members shall be given an opportunity to provide information to the treating professionals
- Family members of recipients shall be provided an opportunity to request and receive educational information about the nature of disorders, medications and their side effects, available support services, advocacy and support groups, financial assistance and coping strategies
- Receiving information from or providing information to family members shall be carried out within the confidentiality constraints of Section 748 of the Mental Health Code.

The Office of Recipient Rights thanks you for helping to protect the rights of our recipients!

INTEROFFICE MEMORANDUM

TO: BOARD MEMBERS
FROM: CATHY MESKE
SUBJECT: TURNOVER REPORT
DATE: FEBRUARY 4, 2019
CC:

Attached is the Turnover Report required by Policy 01-003, Staff Treatment. This report addresses the period January 1, 2018 through December 31, 2018. The report reflects employment activity for the Board's regular employees; substitute and casual employees have not been included as their employment is, by nature, somewhat sporadic and turnover-prone. In the "Turnover by Department" section, we have included internal transfers in the attached report; i.e., a part-time employee accepting a full-time position in a different home would be considered turnover. At the bottom of the report, we have included a statistic showing turnover "Agency-wide," which reflects turnover of employees actually leaving the agency.

Turnover for 2018, including "in-house" turnover, was 25% (this is equal to the prior year); when limited to only those employees that actually left the agency, the rate is 20% (this is equal to the prior year). For the one-year period January 2017 through December 2017, the US Bureau of Labor Statistics reports a "separation rate" of 33.2 % for employees in the classification of "Healthcare and Social Assistance." Therefore, the agency experienced a more stable workforce last year than the healthcare industry in general.

For those employees who actually left the agency, the table below shows the circumstances under which those employees left during 2018. Also shown is some detail about the reasons for the terminations.

Reason for Leaving		# of Separations

Board Approval of Policy
Last Revision of Policy Approved

August 8, 2002
June 14, 2007

•1 POLICY:

The CEO may not allow assets to be unprotected, inadequately maintained nor unnecessarily risked.

Accordingly, he or she may not:

1. Fail to insure against theft and casualty losses at:
 - Actual cash value less any reasonable deductible for vehicles;
 - Replacement value less any reasonable deductible for personal and real property; and,
 - Against liability losses to board members, staff or the organization itself in an amount greater than the average for comparable organizations.
2. Allow unbonded personnel access to material amounts of funds.
3. Unnecessarily expose the organization, its board or staff to claims of liability. The CEO's annual monitoring report shall include a risk analysis summary.
4. Make any purchase wherein normally prudent protection has not been given against conflict of interest. Make any purchase of over $500 without having obtained comparative prices and quality. Make any purchase over $5,000 without a stringent method of assuring the balance of long term quality and cost; further, such purchases over $5,000 not included in the Board's capital equipment budget, shall require Board approval. Orders shall not be split to avoid these criteria.
5. Fail to protect intellectual property, information and files from loss or significant damage.
6. Receive, process or disburse funds under controls which are insufficient to meet the board-appointed auditor's standards.

NORTHEAST MICHIGAN COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH AUTHORITY POLICY & PROCEDURE MANUAL

7. Invest or hold operating capital in insecure instruments, including uninsured checking accounts and bonds of less than AA rating, or in non-interest bearing accounts except where necessary to facilitate ease in operational transactions.
 8. Endanger the organization's public image or credibility, particularly in ways that would hinder its accomplishment of mission, including changing the name of the organization or substantially altering its identity in the community.
 9. Subject facilities and equipment to improper wear and tear or insufficient maintenance.

Board Approval of Policy
Last Revision to Policy Approved:

August 8, 2002
September 14, 2006

●1 POLICY:

Board committees, when used, will be assigned so as to reinforce the wholeness of the board's job and so as never to interfere with delegation from board to CEO. Committees will be used sparingly and ordinarily in an ad hoc capacity.

1. Board committees are to help the board do its job, not to help or advise the staff. Committees ordinarily will assist the board by preparing policy alternatives and implications for board deliberation. In keeping with the board's broader focus, board committees will normally not have direct dealings with current staff operations.
2. Board committees may not speak or act for the board except when formally given such authority for specific and time-limited purposes. Expectations and authority will be carefully stated in order not to conflict with authority delegated to the chief executive.
3. Board committees cannot exercise authority over staff. Because the CEO works for the full board, he or she will not be required to obtain approval of a board committee before an executive action.
4. Board committees are to avoid over-identification with organizational parts rather than the whole. Therefore, a board committee which has helped the board create policy on some topic will not be used to monitor organizational performance on that same subject.
5. This policy applies only to committees which are formed by board action, whether or not the committees include non-board members. It does not apply to committees formed under the authority of the CEO.

DELEGATION TO THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE

(Subject)

Board Approval of Policy

August 8, 2002

Board Approval of Policy Revision:

February 8, 2007

●1 POLICY:

All board authority delegated to staff is delegated through the CEO, so that all authority and accountability of staff—as far as the board is concerned—is considered to be the authority and accountability of the CEO.

1. The board will direct the CEO to achieve specified results, for specified recipients, at a specified worth through the establishment of Ends policies. The board will limit the latitude the CEO may exercise in practices, methods, conduct and other “means” to the ends through establishment of Executive Limitations policies.
2. As long as the CEO uses any reasonable interpretation of the board’s Ends and Executive Limitations policies, the CEO is authorized to establish all further policies, make all decisions, take all actions, establish all practices and develop all activities.
3. The board may change its Ends and Executive Limitations policies, thereby shifting the boundary between board and CEO domains. By so doing, the board changes the latitude of choice given to the CEO. But so long as any particular delegation is in place, the board and its members will respect and support the CEO's choices. This does not prevent the board from obtaining information in the delegated areas.
4. Only decisions of the board acting as a body are binding upon the CEO.
 - A. Decisions or instructions of individual board members, officers, or committees are not binding on the CEO except in rare instances when the board has specifically authorized such exercise of authority.
 - B. In the case of board members or committees requesting information or assistance without board authorization, the CEO can refuse such requests that require—in the CEO's judgment—a material amount of staff time or funds or is disruptive.

Educational Session – Recipient Rights Overview

Discussion:

Ruth Hewett, Recipient Rights Officer, provided Council members with a brief overview of the Recipient Rights System.

Ruth Hewett reported last August the MDHHS-ORR Office conducted a site visit at this Agency and one of the targets the state has established is to assure all employees in the state are receiving the same training related to recipient rights. A training packet was developed. All staff will receive this packet during orientation and then will be required to attend a full class within a set period of time. The full class contains much more detail than this packet contains.

Janet Freeman arrived at 5:07 p.m.

Ruth Hewett reported all US citizens are guaranteed certain rights. In addition, the Mental Health Code identifies additional rights for individuals receiving mental health services. She reviewed the various rights of citizens and the additional rights for individuals receiving services. She reviewed the reporting requirements summary sheet. She reports this Agency has a fully electronic medical record; however, contract providers submit the data on paper forms.

Ruth Hewett reports confidentiality is taken very seriously and staff receives detailed training for this subject. Ruth reports the Mental Health Code applies to three entities – state hospitals, community mental health agencies and private psychiatric hospitals.

Alan Fischer arrived at 5:15 p.m.

Ruth Hewett provided the process used in investigating reports. She notes the Director receives copies of the reports and if substantiated the remedial action is determined but does not include her in the determination process.

Ruth also reports there are certain policies mandated to be on file related to harassment and retaliation and the Whistleblowers Protect Act and Bullard-Plawecki Employee Right to Know.

She also noted there is a Family Rights section added to the Mental Health Code recently and provides for family members of recipients to be treated with dignity and respect, given an opportunity to provide information to treating professionals, provided an opportunity to request and receive educational information about the nature of disorders, medications and their side effects.

Laura Gray inquired as to whether complaints can be filed by other individuals than just the recipient. Ruth Hewett noted there are several complaints received from community members which she researches.

Ruth Hewett notes a staff member or provider who suspects abuse and neglect must file a complaint to the rights office. It is the responsibility of the Rights Office to investigate and determine if there is any validity to the complaint.

Eileen Tank inquired as to whether she would report to the Director at the center before reporting to this Agency. Ruth Hewett reported staff or witnesses must report directly to the Agency. They may or may not be report to the Director.

NMRE Updates

Discussion:

Regional Entity Partners (REP) Update

Gary Nowak reported the NMRE has moved to a new location in Gaylord. The minutes from the January 17th were included in the packet. Roger Boston reported the REP Committee has a new facilitator, Mari Hesselink. He reported the REP members discussed topics based on the feedback from the Day of Recovery Education held in October. He reported during the speaker presentations, attendees will be asked to put their questions on paper to be answered after the presentation. Roger Boston noted the group would like to see one person chair the REP meetings versus the rotation of members acting as chairs. This would eliminate the side bar conversations.

Roger Engle addressed the request from Mary Dumas to convert to completing surveys on a computer versus sending out paper surveys. There are some areas where computer access is not available so there would need to be methods to collect this data. Roger Engle reviewed the activities of the various Consumer Advisory Councils. The February meeting was not scheduled at this point.

NMRE Board Meetings

Cathy Meske reported the December meeting was held at the Otsego Club. This meeting addressed the importance of meeting a Per Member Per Month (PMPM) funding methodology. Funding is received from the state for all recipients receiving Medicaid and by that funding all services must be provided within that amount.

The Opioid Health Home update was provided with 150 enrollees thus far. This is a voluntary program. Cathy Meske reported the January NMRE Board meeting was difficult to get to due to snow. Gary Nowak indicated the Director at the NMRE is very good. SUD services are provided through the Alcona Health Center, Thunder Bay Community Health Services, the Freedom Clinic, and NMSAS. Alan Fischer noted there must be some motivation by the individual and counseling to obtain successful outcomes.

Discussion:

Laura Gray reported the Michigan NAMI had to approve the application for the local NAMI Chapter. National approval needs to be made to allow the local NAMI to operate under the Michigan NAMI and allow them to use the 501c3 from the Michigan NAMI. Laura reported training occurs in March and November. In order to participate in the trainings, the local chapter needs to be up and running. Laura Gray reported the hospital has small grants available for use to cover some training expenses if the application can be filed in time.

Eileen Tank reported last year the Bay View Center wanted to do a fund raiser for a Spa Day. She contacted the hospital to see if there was interest in sponsoring this day by contributing items such as foot baths, cotton balls, etc. The items were not provided; however, she noted a letter was received from the hospital indicating they would contribute $500 for use in wellness.

Laura Gray reports there are about 12 or 13 individuals meeting for the NAMI Development Group.

Diane Hayka informed Council members of the Public Hearing scheduled for Monday, February 25th at 4:00 p.m. in the Board Room. If they received a survey form, they can return it or they can attend the meeting to provide input in program planning and establishing the Agency's priority needs.

Educational Session – Opioid Health Homes

Discussion:

Cathy Meske provided a summary of an Opioid Health Home, not an actual home but a virtual home that assists in providing coordination of all services an enrollee receives. Currently there is only one Opioid Health Home in the state and it is located within the NMRE region. She notes northern Michigan has one of the highest per capita levels of opioid dependence in the State. An Opioid Health Home is not a specific location but a program providing an integrated approach to services, coordinating all health care services and social services. The opioid health home will provide comprehensive care management and coordination services to Medicaid beneficiaries with opioid use disorder who also have or are at risk of developing other chronic conditions. There are about 3,000 Medicaid beneficiaries who qualify for this type of service in the NMRE region. Cathy reports the project will focus on the Medicaid individuals within this group. Individuals without Medicaid coverage within this group can be served through grants and other funding.

Opioid Health Home will function as the central point of contact for the beneficiary to direct their care across the health care system and supports necessary to recover successfully. Coordinators can be located throughout the region to provide services to those identified individuals. Services are coordinated with other Health Home Partners in the region. Dee Whittaker is the Clinical Director of the Program. She will assure individuals are enrolled in the program and if they elect not to participate (as this is a voluntary program), she will disenroll the individual.

The Program Director will work with Peer Recovery Coach Networks, other providers, courts, health departments, law enforcement and other community-based settings. The Coordinators and Access Care Managers work together to get the services to the individual.

Cathy reported the database will allow for coordination using a standard consent form. The goal is to improve services between the primary care provider and the providers of substance use services.

Cathy Meske reported there are two Behavioral Health Homes within the NMRE region – one in Centra Wellness and one in Northern Michigan CMH. This, again, is not an actual home but a virtual home which assists in providing coordinated services. Care managers are assigned to individuals to assure proper services are being delivered and received.

Laura Gray reported the Michigan NAMI had a call to action request in the most current newsletter about an upcoming Bill which has some privacy issues and needed some tweaking prior to passage.

Discussion ensued related to potential issues involved in the recent passage of recreational marijuana.

She was pleased to see the input was received and the spring event is scheduled for a Wednesday.

Laura Gray updated the group on the status of the formation of a local NAMI group. The State approved the application process; however, the National requested no new groups be formed until 2019. Because of the new directive from the National, the group will wait until 2019 to move further.

January 22 is the next regular meeting date for the formation group. Amy Pilarski might be the contact person from CMH; however, this will be verified and communicated to Laura Gray.

It also supersedes the personal interest of any board member acting as a consumer of the organization's services.
2. Members must avoid conflict of interest with respect to their fiduciary responsibility.
 - A. There must be no self-dealing or any conduct of private business or personal services between any board member and the organization except as procedurally controlled to assure openness, competitive opportunity and equal access to "inside" information.

 - C. Board members must not use their positions to obtain employment in the organization for themselves, family members or close associates. Should a member desire employment, he or she must first resign.

Review of Minutes

Discussion:

By consensus, the minutes of the October 15, 2018 meeting were approved.

Council members discussed the importance of getting the minutes from the meeting distributed in draft format in advance of the meeting. This group meets every other month and having the minutes in advance reminds members of assignments, if any. [It should be noted – the QI minutes are on the Agency's intranet under QI Council in draft format as soon as they are completed.]

Discussion:

Nena Sork noted the October 8th and December 10th minutes were included in the materials distributed. Jen Whyte noted policy review and revisions continue. She reported our IS Department has been busy with updates and upgrades to the servers. She also reported Management Team reviews monthly budget reports and will need to monitor general funds closely. Nena stated program descriptions will be completed prior to the CARF review. Jen reported we received some suggestions regarding training needs during our LOCUS Fidelity Review. The Agency will be sending staff for training in January and again in July to address training needs. Margie Hale-Manley reported Peggy Yachasz has been working on Emergency Preparedness for the SIP program.

She continues training staff at various meetings. She met with the CRS/ESU Staff and provided training during their recent meeting. Home Base Staff is the next group Lynne will train. Clinical Leadership Committee

Discussion:

Nena Sork reported Clinical Leadership recently organized a training for chronic anxiety, which was offered to clinical staff and was well attended. Clinical Leadership has worked on creating better guidelines for the children's credits, asking supervisors to monitor the credits and assure their staff have six credits every quarter to avoid a time crunch at the end of the year. Clinical Leadership also has a better idea of what will be accepted as children's credit criteria. The Committee continues to review several of the Client Services Policies, including the Supported Employment policy, Access policy, Emergency Services policy and currently working on the Self-Determination policy. Clinical Leadership also had training since the last QI Council Meeting on BH-TEDS. There have been some changes since it was initially rolled out. Staff have been updated on the changes.

LOCUS review went well. The biggest challenge is having more staff trained to be trainers.

Effective January 1, 2019, our after-hours service will switch from Third Level Crisis Center to ProtoCall Services. Staff have been working on the requirements and steps for this new process. Jamie McConnell has been very active in helping us get workflows and procedures on how information from ProtoCall will be processed. Reports will be uploaded into Majestic for distribution. Changes to the on-call schedule will be sent electronically. Dennis Bannon is ensuring the phones will roll over on January 1, 2019, 12:00 a.m. The Agency's new after-hours number is our regular phone number (989-356-2161) or the toll free number (1-800-968-1964). Our calls will be answered as "Northeast Michigan Community Mental Health." ProtoCall Services are provided through a contractual arrangement. ProtoCall Services' staff are masters level clinicians with a goal of resolving crises. Nena added ProtoCall reports only about 10 percent of the calls they receive require diversion to the hospital for screening. It is hoped this will have a big impact on our Crisis Response Team. ProtoCall has a process for assessing and processing callers for safety and suicidality to resolve issues over the phone. Lynne requested clarification on the purpose for referral to the hospital. Nena explained a face-to-face screen is required for more intense evaluation in determining need for hospitalization. ProtoCall is somewhat more expensive, but we expect it will reduce staff pre-screen costs as well as hospitalization costs. Nena Sork noted Third Level Crisis Center sent almost all callers to the hospital exhausting the after-hour crisis workers. Genny Domke asked where ProtoCall was based. Nena explained they have an office near Grand Blanc and are located in several different states, originally in the Pacific Northwest. Centra Wellness has been contracting with ProtoCall more than 10 years and seems very satisfied with their services.

General Funds started out the fiscal year with a large deficit in October due to two admissions of individuals to an IMD (Institution for Mental Disease) screened downstate and placed inpatient for an extended period of time without our knowledge. After 14 days, Medicaid no longer covers expenses; however these were very sick individuals. Clinical Leadership Team continue to review and plan for individuals with complex cases.

The Team is working with the Director to discuss responsibilities of the Clinical Leadership Team versus the pros and cons of possibly having a Clinical Director perform some of those functions. Nena Sork also reported the Leadership Team in continuing to focus on trauma-informed care and treatment. Peggy Yachasz is working on emergency preparedness for the SIP homes.

Discussion:

Margie Hale-Manley reported the Customer Satisfaction Committee met on October 22nd. Angela Stawowy has joined the Committee. The Committee remains in need of new members and Peggy Yachasz will check with SIP and Community Support to see if anyone is interested in joining. Clerical staff has been checking the suggestion boxes on a monthly basis. Just one suggestion was in Alpena Office, "Keep appointments when they are scheduled."

Annual I/DD Survey data will be reviewed at the January meeting to ensure a brochure is completed for the Board meeting in March. Carolyn Bruning will be asked to provide the procedure on how data is collected and compiled for Committee review. Margie reported Peggy Yachasz had talked with LeeAnn Bushey about the discharge survey that the Peer Specialists are completing with persons who have left services. She will ask Carolyn Bruning and Dennis Bannon to see how this information can be entered so it is available to the Committee. LeeAnn will ask a Peer Specialist to attend the Customer Satisfaction Committee meeting and present the information on a quarterly basis, beginning with the next meeting January 28, 2019.

Genny Domke announced Fall Soup and Dessert and the Cookie Contest went well. Christmas in July seemed to be a big hit and many participants said they would be interested in competing next year. The Committee still are doing Employee of the Month/Employee Recognition, Team of the Month, Friday Trivia and continue to promote regular Friday Theme Days. The input from the staff Suggestion Box has tapered off but the Committee tries to address any concerns in the newsletter. The Committee is still working on the Random Acts of Kindness, though it is hard to get through the whole agency. The Committee is always looking for new members.

Risk Management Committee

Discussion:

Lynne Fredlund reported Committee meets every other month; most recent meeting was November 26, 2018. She noted there was no Grievance & Appeals quarterly report provided to the Committee. The fourth quarter 2018 report as well as the first quarter 2019 report will be presented at the Risk Management's February 2019 meeting.

Lynne shared reports were presented from July, August, September, October and November's Behavior Support meetings. The statistics were reviewed for each category noting the difficulty we are having in monitoring Accommodations for Safety at this time due to the DD Case Management Supervisor vacancy. In summary, this five-month review showed three physical interventions. Although three too many, we work with a large number of people and this only happened during one month.

The Recipient Rights Committee met October 21, 2019. Both the quarterly and annual rights reports were presented. The State Rights Office Assessment score sheet from the August site visit was shared with the Committee.

Risk Review Committee continues to meet twice a month. Lynne is reviewing items online. The greatest volume of risk reviews are 911 calls received, most were deemed appropriate. The team does not have to convene to discuss these; Lynne resolves the reports on her own. The Risk Review Committee will begin meeting on a regular basis in 2019 so committee members will be able to view the type of issues requiring review, which Lynne indicated she has been addressing. The Committee will continue review of the 7-day follow-up issue following hospitalization. The next Risk Review Committee meeting is scheduled February 25, 2019.

Safety Committee

Discussion:

Jamie McConnell reported the Committee met October 9th and November 27th. The October meeting featured updates on the methods used to address the Hillman Office safety concerns. An automatic door closure was installed along with a doorbell alarm-type system. She reported the safety issue raised related to the rugs in the

DRAFT

Alpena Lobby area had discussion and Rich Greer was going to further investigate issues with rugs in the lobby and gather information related to the number of incident reports due to tripping, etc. Implementation of the Preventative Maintenance and Safety Quarterly Inspection forms were discussed in October, since the forms have been approved.

In November, the Consumer Injuries and Falls Report for the period July 1 through September 30, 2018 was reviewed. Kay Keller introduced Alison Male, RN who will assume the duties of Infection Control Nurse in January 2019. Alison will be attending the Safety Committee meetings. Employee Injury Reports were reviewed for trend analysis for 2017-2018 and the Committee will continue to monitor these. The Committee talked about tracking the Preventative Maintenance and Safety Quarterly Inspection checklist quarterly through Rogers City Office, similar to how the Drill Logs are tracked. In March, June, September and December tracking will occur in that same manner. The committee members approved the Executive Summary Report conducted by the third party Olivier and VanDyk. Jamie offered the Summary Report to QI Council for review. The Safety Committee provided follow-up comments on all of the pictures, noting there were some Cambridge and Mill Creek pictures improperly labeled. Drill Log Matrix was reviewed.

Jamie distributed some forms and procedures currently contained in the Environment of Care (EOC) Manual. The Safety Committee is requesting to delete Form BD F-081 Request for Vehicle Repair/Maintenance/Emergency Needs from the Environment of Care (EOC) Manual; it exists in Policy #3340. The Committee recommends reducing duplication of policies. Lynne asked whether staff will know to look in policy. Lynne added she views the EOC Manual as a resource for staff to have on site. Nena mentioned concern with group homes easily obtaining this form since they don't all have the same method of access. Margie responded this would be okay if there was an email explaining where to find the form; the Staff have access to policies. Nena asked again whether an RTW would know how to find the policy. Margie asked whether this form is available on our intranet. Frustration when searching for a particular form was discussed. Margie emphasized it would be very helpful to have all Agency forms saved in one area. Lynne summarized alerting staff of any changes to forms with an email would be helpful. Margie suggested cataloging all of the Agency's forms and saving them in one location. Lynne suggested adding this to our process improvement list. Nena added she prefers redundancy rather than someone unable to find the form resulting in serious danger to somebody.

A second request for consideration from the Safety Committee addresses the EOC Manual, Policy 1.9. The policy has a redundant statement which is included in EOC Manual, Policy 5.1. The Safety Committee requests consideration for removal of this statement from Policy 1.9.

A third request from the Safety Committee is consideration to remove the sanitizing statement from Policy 1.110. The solution requirements for sanitizing are more detailed in the Infection Control Policy #3315. Jamie explained Safety Committee's request to eliminate duplication and discussed the risk of having conflicting criteria. Lynne interjected asking how staff will know how to clean the countertop. Jamie responded the staff needs to be familiar with Policy #3315. Lynne explained this is a 60-page policy; she feels the EOC Manual is a resource for staff. Judy Szott questioned what accommodations are made for individual having an allergy to bleach. Margie informed Council members the Home Supervisor would be made aware so alternatives are available or another staff member might be responsible for that chore. In addition, gloves are available and are found in the first aid stations in the offices and the homes have ample glove supplies. Discussion ensued regarding the duplication of time, labor and effort between the EOC Manual & Policy #3315 as well as previous denial to update the EOC Manual when Mary Hardies (Infection Control Nurse) provided input. Lynne explained the person in charge of this policy needs to change our policy and report a change is required in the EOC Manual, if appropriate. Margie commented there seems to be a disconnect between Policies and the ECO Manual in some instances. Jamie clarified the Safety Committee is working on correcting this as a team, which includes the Infection Control Nurse. Nena asked how updates get communicated to the homes or to Carolyn Bruning for licensing review. Nena interjected licensing brings another level to this. Jamie asked whether Carolyn Bruning should be invited to attend Safety Committee. Nena said Carolyn Bruning should be consulted, others confirmed this.

Margie suggested the Environment of Care Manual become part of annual staff training. She feels staff will look at this resource more than they will a policy.

DRAFT

Jamie reported Rich Greer followed up with Ruth Hewett and related to the safety concern of the rugs in the front office. There were no incident reports with regard to the rugs in the lobby and this will continue to be monitored.

Jamie reported Clerical staff from Fletcher Street report non-compliance with safety drills. Nena reported this was addressed at Management Team and is believed to be a Supervisory issue. Noncompliance should be reported to the Supervisor for handling. Nena Sork indicated Clerical Staff may cc: the Clinical Leadership Team when notifying Supervisor.

The Safety Committee also received a concern about driving under the awning at Alpena Office with a suggestion to designate the area under the awning as a drop-off and pick-up area only. Nena reported Management Team addressed this and responded no change will occur.

The Safety Committee will meet again January 8, 2019.

Action Items:

1. Request for Vehicle Repair/Maintenance/Emergency Needs from Environment of Care (EOC) Manual be removed.
QI Council denied deletion of the removal of form from the Environment of Care Manual. When the forms are organized in a more consistent fashion, this can be readdressed.
2. In the EOC, Policy 1.9 states "all fires and fire drills will be tracked and trended." The Safety Committee recommends deleting that sentence because the same wording is contained in EOC Policy 5.1.
QI Council approved deleting this content from the EOC, Policy 1.9.
3. In the EOC, Policy 1.110 includes content related to the sanitizing solution used for disinfecting; this content is printed in Infection Prevention and Control Policy #3315.
QI Council denied deletion of the sanitation process defined in the EOC Policy 1.110; however, assurance should be made that the information is the same in both the EOC and the policy.
4. Consideration of including the Environment of Control Manual review as part of annual staff training.
5. Safety issue identified related to the rugs in the Alpena Office lobby and a possible trip hazard.
Safety Committee will continue to monitor; however, there were no incident reports filed related to this hazard.
6. Non-compliance with safety drills.
Staff observing non-compliance should report incident to employee's supervisor for handling with a copy to the Clinical Leadership Team, if desired.
7. Driving under awning at the Alpena Office concern.
Nena Sork informed Council members this issue was addressed at Management Team and this area is well posted for pedestrian crossing and slow driving. No further action required.

authorizations that are not being used. Assurance needs to be made of authorizing needs for respite without over authorizing.

The Committee reviewed the Utilization Management Plan. Accomplishments were identified and those items still a work in progress. The Council will be updated when complete.

In December the Committee met and continued reviewing respite usage with improvements noted this month. Most programs are making changes and monitoring continues. Mark Blandford provides supervisors with the reports monthly. The Committee also looked at discharges from services for themes and patterns. Each supervisor will be taking a look at their programs and Jen noted she is also assigned to review several programs. The Committee continues to look at authorizations in the system with no activity.

Nena Sork inquired about the monthly clinical record reviews conducted by supervisors and whether there are any findings during this process. Jen responded that process was put on hold while we are trying to get the review process integrated with PCE. Nena noted she believes supervisors are still conducting record reviews every month, just not putting them in any system. LeeAnn reported she provided Mark Blandford with information to develop spreadsheet to use for tracking. Judy Szott is collecting the data and will be entering it into the spreadsheet as soon as it is ready. Jen volunteered to follow up with Mark to get status on project. In addition, Jen reported Lisa Orozco RN had requested there be an addition related to medications. Nena stressed the importance of getting this in place prior to CARF survey. She notes clinical record review was not an element that was going to be integrated into Majestic as Majestic is a consumer record and clinical record reviews are about the staff. That was never part of our implementation. Because it was in AVATAR in a separate section, maybe that is where it came from.

Lynne Fredlund reported the LOCUS review was conducted December 3, 2018. This was a voluntary review. Grant dollars were available for the reviewers to conduct an assessment at community mental health agencies to assist in addressing any weaknesses, strengths, etc. The reviewers will be providing the agency with a plan of correction for areas needing more focus. The Clinical Leadership Team suggested the recommendations this group provides should be implemented and have another review in 18 months. This will prepare the agency to be in a good position when the State decides to review this process. 1. Hepatitis A Semiannual Review

Discussion:

Lynne provided Council members with a history of the Hepatitis A assessment the Agency conducts, noting providing information to consumers was initially a mandate from the State. The State required the Agency to develop a screening tool and have available material to educate consumers and encourage testing and vaccinations. The State did not indicate this assessment had to be tracked until it had been implemented for a period of time. The State then required the Agency to track the information and report to the State the data collected. Lynne noted the report included in the packet for this meeting contains the statistics for Hepatitis A from April 1, 2018 to September 30, 2018.

Lynne Fredlund noted this Agency will continue to track this information and review data semiannually. Nena Sork expressed concern about continuing this process at intake as there is so many other requirements needed during the intake process. Nick Filinow Award of Excellence Awardee Named

Congratulations to the 2018 The Community Mental Health Association of Michigan’s Nick Filinow Award of Excellence award recipient, Lauren Tompkins, Genesee Health System. Below is an excerpt from Dr. Tompkins nomination for the Nick Filinow award.

Dr. Tompkins has been at the forefront of many new program developments with regards to the Flint Water Crisis. She has been in every meeting, committee and group to ensure services have been provided, treatment is delivered, and care given to the residents of Flint. If it was not for her involvement, most of these programs, would not have happened, many of the grants would not have been secured, and the attention would not have been given to this community. Dr. Tompkins led the way in responding to the behavioral health care needs for those affected by the Flint Water Crisis, including implementation of a new and unique service line for children and pregnant women and the obtainment of numerous grants to fill in the gaps to meet the needs of the community as a whole.

Dr. Tompkins designed our state-of-the-art autism center, which continues to provide effective and evidence-based programing for children diagnosed with autism. Dr. Tompkins restructured our adult programing to better meet the unique needs of the adult populations we serve, and under her direction, numerous adult and child evidence-based practices have been adopted, mitigating symptomology for at risk youth and families.

Dr. Tompkins has served Genesee County residents for over 30 years. Starting as a part time secretary at Genesee County CMH while continuing her education, she worked her way up and held such positions as evaluation assistant, rehabilitation counselor and primary therapist. She left the area to obtain a Ph.D. in clinical neuro psychology but returned to Flint to continue her mission to serve the community, and further Genesee Health System’s Mission of supporting recovery, prevention, health, and wellness of the body and the mind. Lauren was promoted to supervisor of psychological services, and then to Director of Access and Utilization Management (UM), where she was instrumental in the development and oversight of the agency’s managed care functions during the period when GHS was a high performing PIHP. Dr. Tompkins became Director of the Quality and UM where she developed a quality improvement and monitoring process for our clinical programs.

She now serves as Vice President of Clinical Operation where she oversees all clinical programing for the agency, which is comprised of over 450 staff. Dr. Tompkins is well known as a visionary for innovative programing and strategic planning; and an advocate with a heart for the consumers and families in our care. She is a much sought-after presenter having spoken at most of the major behavioral health meetings in the country.

Phishing and Email Security

Breaches related to email phishing have been on the rise. This is a high-risk item because of how easy and accessible it is for an attacker to send a phishing email. Once in, an attacker can either gain access to ePHI that lives in that mailbox or use that mailbox to trick others within your organization. Some spam filters are not advanced enough to filter out all phishing emails. It's important to not only have a reliable spam filter, but to also frequently train staff on how to identify and handle a phishing email. This is also why it's important to have a password policy that requires a reset every certain number of days. Reach out to the CMHA to get help today!

NASMHPD submits sound comments to proposed federal network adequacy standards

Below is a recent letter, from the National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors (NASMHPD) regarding the proposed Medicaid rules related to network adequacy. The view of NASMHPD is a sound, rationale, and feasible approach to ensuring network adequacy.

January 9, 2019

Mr. Christopher Traylor
Acting Director, Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
P.O. Box 8016

Re: Proposed Medicaid Program Rule: Medicaid and Children's Health
Insurance Plan (CHIP) Managed Care - CMS-2408-P
Dear Acting Director Traylor:

The National Association of Mental Health Program Directors (NASMHPD)— the member organization representing the state executives responsible for the $37 billion public mental health service delivery systems serving 7.2 million people annually in 50 states, 4 territories, and the District of Columbia—appreciates the opportunity afforded by the Center for Medicaid and Medicare Services (CMS) to offer comments on the above-referenced proposed Medicaid managed care regulations, specifically on proposed new measures to guarantee network adequacy and provider access. With regard to the proposed changes to the network adequacy standard which would give states the flexibility to adopt their own standards for network adequacy other than time and distance, we want to first say that state program administrators always appreciate efforts by Federal regulators to afford states greater flexibility. However, a uniform standard would permit a better measure of outcomes across states through the reporting of more consistent data.

Rather than the approach suggested in the proposed regulations, we would instead recommend that the time and distance standard be maintained as the default measure of network adequacy, with states permitted to use the other measures listed within proposed 42 CFR 463.68 (or similar alternative measures) if they can show to the CMS Administrator's satisfaction that the default measure is not reasonably workable within their state for the statewide population or for specific populations such as enrollees needing long-term services and supports (LTSS). We believe that such an approach would ensure a more uniform base of outcomes data regarding enrollees' access to providers and reduce the administrative burden on Medicaid managed care insurers operating in multiple states.

Thank you for the opportunity to offer this suggestion for your consideration. If you have additional questions regarding this suggestion, please feel free to contact me at brian.hepburn@nasmhpd.org or 703-739-9333 or NASMHPD's Director of Policy and Communications, Stuart Gordon, at stuart.gordon@nasmhpd.org or 703-682-7552.

Sincerely,
Brian Hepburn, M.D.

CDC releases report on drug overdose deaths among women

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Your Online Source for Credible Health Information

Middle-aged women remain vulnerable to death by drug overdose, according to a Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report (MMWR) released today. CDC examined overdose death rates among women aged 30–64 years during 1999–2017 overall and by drug subcategories (antidepressants, benzodiazepines, cocaine, heroin, prescription opioids, and synthetic opioids, excluding methadone).

Key Findings

Drug overdose deaths continue to rise among women.

The crude drug overdose death rate among women aged 30–64 years increased by 260% between 1999 and 2017. The rate went from 6.7 drug overdose deaths per 100,000 population (4,314 deaths) in 1999 to 24.3 (18,110 deaths) in 2017.

The age distribution of drug overdose deaths among middle-aged women changed. Among women age 30–64, the average age of death from drug overdoses increased by nearly three years.

Opioids are a significant contributor to the rise in overdose deaths among women aged 30–64. However, analyses confirm that the recent sharp increases in the drug overdose epidemic were driven by deaths involving synthetic opioids, like illicitly manufactured fentanyl (IMF).

During this time, rates of drug overdose deaths increased for those involving synthetic opioids (1,643%), heroin (915%), benzodiazepines (830%), prescription opioids (485%), cocaine (280%), and antidepressants (176%).

State Legislative Update:

Whitmer Names Former Obama Appointee as DHHS Director

Robert GORDON, a former President Barack OBAMA appointee, was named Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) director by Gov. Gretchen WHITMER today.

Gordon currently serves as senior vice president of finance and global strategy for The College Board, which is the organization behind the SAT test.

He was appointed by Obama to serve as acting deputy director at the U.S. Office of Management and Budget, and served as acting assistant secretary for Planning, Evaluation, and Policy Development at the U.S. Department of Education, according to a press release from Whitmer's office.

He was previously a law clerk for U.S. Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader GINSBURG, as well. Gordon earned his bachelor's degree at Harvard University and his J.D. from Yale University, according to his biography on The College Board website.

"I have full confidence that Robert will work every day to improve public health and deliver essential human services for Michiganders across the state," Whitmer said in a statement. "He brings a unique set of skills and experiences that will lead the Department of Health and Human Services to drive real results that help hardworking families, and I look forward to working with him and the rest of our department leaders as we build a stronger Michigan for everyone."

Gordon, in a statement, said, "I look forward to working with Governor Whitmer and this administration as we improve public health and quality of life for Michiganders across the state. I'm ready to roll up my sleeves and get to work building a Michigan where everyone has access to the care they need and can make healthy decisions for themselves and their families. Let's go."

The new DHHS director takes over for acting director Farah HANLEY, who was deputy director for financial operations for the DHHS.

Gordon is the permanent replacement for Nick LYON, who was picked by former Gov. Rick SNYDER to lead the combined DHHS when Snyder merged the community health and human services departments in 2015. Lyon is also facing criminal charges in connection to the Flint water crisis investigation.

Senate: 'Priority No. 1 is No-Fault Reform'

Senate Majority Leader Mike Shirkey (R-Clarklake) erased any doubt, if any existed about the Senate's top priority for the 2019-20 session. The day after saying "we have the obligation to reform auto insurance," the new leader said lowering car insurance rates topped his caucus' initial to-do list.

A reporter asked Shirkey if he preferred to tackle the insurance reform issue piece by piece or from a comprehensive standpoint.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

"Auto no-fault insurance is a great example of the finicky-ness of passing laws that affect how people create business models," Shirkey explained. "If you're going to create business models based on a law, you're subjecting yourself to that law being changed. That's the biggest reason why previous attempts at reform have been met with such resistance." "I think our plan will end up being pretty comprehensive," he concluded.

Federal Update:

Trump's Top Medicaid Official Resigns

After less than three months on the job, Mary Mayhew has resigned as Director of the Center for Medicaid and CHIP Services (CMCS) at CMS. Mayhew is known for her previous work in Maine to tighten the state's Medicaid eligibility standards and impose work requirements for the food stamp program. At CMS, Mayhew championed Medicaid work requirements, including approving a Medicaid work requirement waiver for Maine that she had helped to craft. Mayhew is departing to lead new Florida Governor Ron DeSantis's (R) health care agenda, a potential signal that DeSantis may pursue tighter eligibility standards for Medicaid and other social benefits.

What to Watch in Health Care in 2019

The 116th Congress began on Thursday amid a government funding lapse that has shut down roughly 25 percent of the federal government. Democrats are set to lead the House chamber for the first time since 2010, while Republicans remain in control in the Senate. While legislation may be move less quickly in the new divided Congress, lawmakers will still face a number of "must-pass" bills that include health care priorities. Additionally, the Trump Administration will continue to shape the health care landscape with Medicaid waivers and potential payment reforms. Here is a preview of what's ahead in health policy in 2019.

FY 2020 Budget: FY 2020 will see the return of scheduled funding cuts, known as "sequestration", on non-defense discretionary spending, which includes health care programs. Established by the 2011 Budget Control Act, sequestration could result in major funding cuts to discretionary spending across the board. The National Council will be urging Congress to lift the caps to avoid harmful cuts to vital health programs. If Congress does not lift the caps this Spring, recent FY 2019 funding increases for mental health and addiction programs would be in danger of being lost.

ACA Legal Challenge: While attempts to "repeal and replace" the Affordable Care Act are likely dead with a Democratic-controlled House, the ACA now faces a new threat in the legal system. In late December, Judge Reed O'Connor found the Affordable Care Act (ACA) to be unconstitutional following Congress' repeal of the individual mandate penalty in 2017. Legal experts are overwhelmingly skeptical that Judge O'Connor's ruling will be upheld through the appeals process and during this time the ACA remains the law of the land. Nonetheless, the ruling injects a new round of uncertainty in the health insurance marketplace, and for the health care sector more generally. This will be an issue to watch closely in 2019. Read more about O'Connor's decision here.

Medicaid Waivers: Since assuming office, Centers of Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Administrator Seema Verma has promoted state-based control and flexibility over Medicaid programs and individual insurance marketplaces, largely through the use of waivers. Many of these new waivers, like Medicaid work requirements, are opposed by the National Council for restricting beneficiaries' access to behavioral health services. CMS has also directed states on new pathways for bypassing the ACA. At the same time, CMS has released new opportunities for states to increase access to services, including their recent announcement about mental health services.

With a divided Congress, expect the Trump Administration to focus more energy on shaping health policy through waivers and other executive action. House Democrats may also use their new oversight authority to investigate the Trump Administration's actions to undermine the ACA and implement work requirements.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

More Opioid Legislation: Following the 2018 Opioid Package, some Democrats expressed concern that the package “did not go far enough” to address the ongoing opioid crisis. The package included a number of important provisions for providers that were the direct result of National Council advocacy, including: a new loan repayment program for addiction treatment professionals, behavioral health IT incentivizes, and expanded access to telemedicine. However, the National Council was disappointed that the package lacked meaningful, long-term investment in our nation’s addiction treatment system by not including an expansion of the Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics (CCBHCs) program. The National Council remains hopeful that Congress will find bipartisan compromise once again and pass legislation to address the addiction crisis early on in the new year.

Payment Reform: The drive toward value-based payments will continue into 2019. Expect CMS to continuing pursuing the alternative payment models that started under the Affordable Care Act including bundled payments and more accountable care organizations.

Education Opportunities:

Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) Trainings for 2018/2019

2-Day Introduction to DBT Trainings

This 2-Day introduction to DBT training is intended for persons who serve adults through CMH, CMH Service Providers, PIHP, and PIHP providers in the state of Michigan who are interested in learning the theoretical underpinnings of the treatment. It will explain what the key ingredients are in DBT that make up its empirical base. A basic overview of the original DBT skills will be covered along with how to structure and format skills training groups. This training is targeted toward those who are new to DBT with limited experience and who are looking to fulfill the pre-requisite to attend more comprehensive DBT training in the future.

Dates/Locations:

February 21-22, 2019 | Detroit Marriott Livonia
March 18-19, 2019 | Great Wolf Lodge, Traverse City
May 13-14, 2019 | Kellogg Center, East Lansing

Who Should Attend?

This event is sponsored by the adult mental health block grant and is only intended for persons who serve adults through CMH, CMH Service Providers, PIHP, and PIHP providers in the state of Michigan. This seminar contains content appropriate for medical directors, clinical directors, case workers, supports coordinators, and other practitioners at all beginning level of practice.

Training Fee:

$125 per person. The fee includes training materials, continental breakfast and lunch for both days.

CLICK HERE for full training details, CE information, overnight accommodations and registration links.

5-Day Comprehensive DBT Trainings

- This training is designed for CMH, CMH service providers, PIHP, and PIHP service provider staff who are directly responsible for delivering DBT.
- Due to the fact DBT is a comprehensive treatment that treats high-risk individuals, one's core training ought to be comprehensive as well.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

- IT IS EXPECTED THAT ALL PARTICIPANTS WILL MAKE A FULL COMMITMENT TO ATTEND ALL 5 DAYS mindfully and will participate fully in discussion, role-plays and complete daily homework assignments.
- Participants are asked to bring a copy of “Cognitive Behavioral Treatment of Borderline Personality Disorder” by Marsha Linehan, PhD, with them to the training.
- COMPLETION OF A 2-DAY INTRODUCTION TO DBT TRAINING OR EQUIVALENT IS A PRE-REQUISITE FOR ATTENDING THIS TRAINING.
- This is NOT a training that teaches DBT skills. There will be very little focus on DBT skills. The majority of the focus of this training will be to help clinicians on how to conduct individual DBT sessions. If your goal is to come to this training in order to learn DBT skills, do not attend. Implementation of Integrated Dual Disorder Treatment (IDDT) and Co-Occurring Evidence-Based Practices Annual Trainings for 2018/2019

Course Description:

Adults with co-occurring mental illness and substance use disorders have far worse outcomes in employment, hospitalization, housing, and criminal justice involvement than their single disordered peers. This co-prevalence has been studied since the 1980s, yet despite this substantive increased risk, most service systems were organized to treat individuals with a single disorder, excluding those with co-occurring disorders, or providing sequential or parallel treatments that were incompatible or in conflict with each other. Integrated services offer superior outcomes to parallel or sequential treatments and call on providers to develop interventions to assist individuals in moving toward recovery for both illnesses simultaneously. Recovery-oriented care requires changes at a systems and individual practitioner level in areas including assessment, treatment planning, and delivery. Integrated co-occurring providers will learn about the research on integrated care including evidence-based practices (EBP), and ways to develop stage-matched assessment, treatment planning, and treatment interventions for adults with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders.

This training fulfills the annual requirement for persons who are part of an IDDT team, as well as for persons providing COD services in Adult Mental Health outpatient services.

CHCS Announces Complex Care Webinar

Below is a recent announcement from the Center for Health Care Strategies of an upcoming webinar on the recently issued blue print for complex care.

CHCS: Introducing the Blueprint for Complex Care: Opportunities to Advance the Field

Funder: The Commonwealth Fund, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, The SCAN Foundation

Date and Time: January 22, 2019, 2:00 – 3:00 PM ET

Health care innovators across the country are pioneering new approaches to provide better care at lower cost for people with complex health and social needs. Advancing the field of complex care and dramatically improving care delivery for the nation's most vulnerable patients, however, cannot be achieved by one organization alone. The recently released Blueprint for Complex Care provides a strategic plan to unite the broad set of individuals and organizations experimenting with innovative care models and outlines opportunities to further advance the field.

During this webinar, Blueprint authors from the National Center for Complex Health and Social Needs, the Center for Health Care Strategies, and the Institute for Healthcare Improvement will outline the goals of the Blueprint, discuss how it was developed, describe recommendations for building the complex care field, and share opportunities to get involved. Two experts in the field will provide ground-level perspectives on the Blueprint's recommendations.

Providers, health system and health plan leaders, community-based organizations representatives, policymakers, state officials, and other stakeholders are invited to join this 60-minute event. This webinar is made possible by The Commonwealth Fund, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and The SCAN Foundation.

Local Security and Cloud Servers?

It is a common misconception that local computers and networks do not have to be secure because an organization’s EMR system lives in the cloud. Although you are still required to have a BAA for that cloud provider, it is also imperative to protect the local network. An attacker could gain access to a local computer and either take screenshots of ePHI that a user is viewing, or they could capture login credentials to a cloud EMR system. The same security rules apply to a local network even if the server is not onsite. Reach out to the CMHA to get help today!

MDHHS Director Gordon Reaches out to CMH Association, MDHHS employees, and MDHHS Stakeholders

On his first day in the role as the Director of the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, Robert Gordon reached out to talk to our Association, as a key MDHHS stakeholder. We discussed the CMH Association’s recommendations to strengthen Michigan’s public mental health system, drawing on two of the Association’s core advocacy documents “Vision for a World Class Public Mental Health System in Michigan” and its “Addressing the systemic underfunding of Michigan’s public mental health system”. He expressed his strong support for our system, reminding us that his father was a psychiatrist in the public mental health system of New York. He asked that we drop off hard copies of the materials that we discussed, along with other materials related to our system.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

Below is an e-mail, from Robert Gordon's office, that went out to all of the Department's key stakeholder organizations, earlier this week.

Additionally, below is an email (and a link to a video interview) from Robert Gordon that was sent to MDHHS employees, earlier this week. While this e-mail and video are intended for MDHHS employees, the themes contained in the e-mail and video provide us with a clear picture of his approach to his work and his hopes and vision for MDHHS.

Message to MDHHS stakeholders from Director Gordon:

Dear Stakeholders:

I am grateful to Governor Whitmer for the honor of service as Director of the Department of Health and Human Services.

With my appointment, many of you issued statements that expressed your support and shared your commitments and concerns. I am grateful. I know the indispensable roles that diverse private, non-profit, and public organizations play in delivering care in this great state. I look forward to working with all of you to improve Michiganders' lives.

While I am focused for now on getting to know the Department staff, I am eager to begin meeting many of you in the coming weeks and months. The state's stakeholders will be critical partners in any success. I am excited to work together with you building a Michigan where everyone has access to the care they need and can make health decisions for themselves and their families.

Sincerely,

Robert Gordon

Message to MDHHS staff from Director Gordon:

Good afternoon MDHHS employees:

Thank you so much for your warm welcome last week. It was a pleasure to meet a few of you, and I'm looking forward to meeting even more of you going forward. I'm excited to learn about how we can work together to improve Michiganders' lives.

Please know that my immediate focus will be on speaking with you about what is working and what is not. Where changes need to be made, I will be deliberate and transparent.

As I begin this new opportunity, I am guided by five principles: act on scientific data; put the interest of the public ahead of my personal interests or the interests of the agency; treat residents of all racial or economic backgrounds with dignity, honesty and respect; spend taxpayer dollars like they were my own; and create opportunities for all of you to do your best work.

If you're interested, please take a moment to watch this video for more about me. (The CMH Association has placed this YouTube video on the Association's website to expedite access to it: <https://cmham.org/message-from-mdhhs-director-robert-gordon/>)

Thank you again,

Robert

New Director Talks About Opportunities in Combined MDHHS

The following are excerpts from a recent MIRS news story on the early days of MDHHS Director Robert Gordon. Incoming Director Robert GORDON said today he believes there are "huge opportunities to improve services through the combination" of agencies that turned the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) into a huge 14,000-employee department.

"There are enormous connections between health and human services. People don't live their lives in bureaucrat boxes," he said in a telephone press conference today. ". . . I also know it is clear there is much more work to be done to leverage the combination and to get the full benefit."

Gordon was appointed Thursday as the new DHHS director by Gov. Gretchen WHITMER. He most recently was senior vice president of finance and global strategy for The College Board. Previously, he served under President Barack OBAMA as acting deputy director at the U.S. Office of Management and Budget, and was the acting assistant secretary for Planning, Evaluation, and Policy Development at the U.S. Department of Education (

Whitmer said in December she was considering breaking up DHHS and had been concerned with the combination when it was made under former Gov. Rick SNYDER. She has since said it's not an immediate priority.

"I view it as an open question. I should say, I don't think there is a final decision on this question. But my going in is to look hard at it and see if and how we can make a single agency really effective for people," Gordon said. ". . . Often, it's the same people on one side of the house that need services on the other side of the house."

Gordon is replacing former director Nick LYON. Lyon and former chief medical executive Dr. Eden WELLS are still facing charges stemming from the Flint water crisis.

Asked how he intends to address morale in the department in the wake of those charges, Gordon said he would be "setting forth principles that we can all stand behind and that reflect our aspirations."

Those principles include acting on data and evidence, putting the interests of the public ahead of the interests of the agency, treating all residents of Michigan with respect, "and lastly, we have to shepherd taxpayer dollars carefully. We have to treat taxpayer money like it's our own," he said.

Gordon said that while he knows improvements at the department are needed, he plans to listen to the staff and honor the work they do.

"I have personal experience working with case workers and social workers side by side, case by case trying to figure out how to do the right thing for a kid in terrible distress. I know how hard those jobs are. I know you don't do those jobs for the money because the money is not great," he said.

State Funding Recognition of K-12 Mental Health Issues, Advocates Say

Below are excerpts from a recent media story about the inclusion of funding, in the FY 2019 Supplemental Budget Bill recently signed by Governor Snyder. These funds target many of the school-based mental health services in which the Association's members are involved and was fostered by a coalition, of which this Association was a part, led by the School Community Health Alliance of Michigan (SCHA-MI).

Gov. Rick Snyder recently signed legislation designating $31.3 million for School Mental Health and Support Services within the K-12 budget.

Advocates for children say years of lobbying and advocacy finally paid off in December.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

School leaders say every year they try to meet the growing needs of students with mental, emotional or behavioral disorders with limited resources.

"We are abundantly grateful for the allocation because it acknowledges student mental health issues are a problem in our schools," said Ottawa Area ISD Superintendent Peter Haines.

"For a long time, there has been a universal outcry that this is a common problem. This funding is a good start and will make a difference."

Snyder signs $1.3B in funding for roads, toxic clean-ups, schools
$114 million will go toward roads

There is also excitement around the funding opening the door for the possible expansion of the Medicaid-enrolled students for whom a school can bill Medicaid for health services delivered in the school.

MDHHS Seeking Public Comment on MI Health Link ("Duals Project") Waiver Amendment

Dear Interested Party:

RE: Section 1915(c) MI Health Link Waiver Amendment

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) is submitting a waiver amendment to the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) for the Section 1915(c) MI Health Link waiver. The purpose of this amendment is to:

1. Revise the data sources, frequency of data collection and sampling approach associated with the waiver's performance measures.
2. Add Door 8 for the nursing facility level of care determination which will be used to determine functional eligibility.
3. Reflect the change in name from Department of Community Health to Michigan Department of Health and Human Services and the change in name from Bureau of Medicaid Policy and Health System Innovation to Bureau of Medicaid Long-Term Care Services and Supports.
4. Remove Community Transition Services from the waiver. These services will be provided as State Plan services.
5. Change references of Level of Care (LOC) code to Program Enrollment Type (PET) code.
6. Modify language pertaining to the appeals process to comply with the federal Managed Care Rule. Enrollees will need to exhaust the internal appeals process prior to requesting a State Fair Hearing through the Michigan Administrative Hearing System (MAHS) or the Michigan Department of Insurance and Financial Services (DIFS). Requests for appellate review must be filed within ten (10) calendar days after the notice of adverse resolution or decision, in order to continue to receive those services during the pendency of the appeal. This is true for the internal appeal and any subsequent review by MAHS or DIFS.
7. Update excluded populations to include persons residing in State Veterans' Administration (VA) Homes as of June 1, 2018. (bulletin MSA 18-08)
8. Add methods for Level of Care Quality Assurance Reviews based on State-wide methodology.

The anticipated effective date of this waiver amendment is April 1, 2019.

The Job Most Americans Don't Know About, but is Crucial to The Success of People with Disabilities

Below are excerpts from a recent story, in Forbes magazine, about the value of direct care and the need for their work to be supported fiscally and organizationally.

A whopping 88% of direct support professionals leave their job because of inadequate wages.

The Case for Inclusion, a report recently published by two nonprofit institutions, ANCOR Foundation and United Cerebral Palsy (UCP), gives a meticulously researched overview of what life is like for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD). The report assesses states on how well they include, support and empower individuals with I/DD. The conclusion? Despite progress, overall support for this community has stalled, according to the report—and honestly, even the word stalled sounds a little too kind.

There are years-long waiting lists for residential services and a low number of individuals with I/DD working at a market-driven wage. Families are picking up the duties that a professional would if they were covered by Medicaid. The good news: Decades after states embarked on efforts to close large institutions that essentially warehoused the I/DD population, 34% of people with intellectual disabilities are employed. Every dollar spent on supporting individuals in finding work, friends, and self-esteem promises a huge return on investment.

For people of all abilities in this community, success is often determined by one highly influential, skilled person who helps them navigate both the work world and home life. They are called DSPs. Not familiar with the acronym? You're not alone. Read on to learn more.

One word of warning—there are a lot of acronyms in this post. Plow through anyway. This is important information for business leaders and their communities.

What Exactly Is A Direct Support Professional?

The Case for Inclusion devotes more than a few pages to what is known as the direct care workforce or DSPs—Direct Support Professionals. They are often called the linchpin or the backbone of the care/support system. DSPs specialize in supporting individuals with I/DD so that they can live in the community with their family and peers instead of in state institutions, per the report. DSPs are also the relationship builders who connect individuals to jobs, volunteer opportunities, friends, religious groups and civic life.

For the general public, who wouldn't know an HSA or PCA from a DSP if their life depended on it (and someday it might), this is your wake-up call.

Essentially, every aspect of an I/DD individual's life could very well change for the better if DSP wages improved. Still, many legislators lack an understanding of the crucial role of DSPs in the caregiving system, which can result in limited funding for them, which comes primarily from Medicaid.

CDC Provides Cultural Competence Resources

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Your Online Source for Credible Health Information

Below is an excerpt from a recent Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announcement on the CDC's resources on cultural competence.

Tools for Cross-Cultural Communication and Language Access Can Help Organizations Address Health Literacy and Improve Communication Effectiveness

Effective communication recognizes and bridges cultural differences.

The ideas people have about health, the languages they use, the health literacy skills they have, and the contexts in which they communicate about health reflect their cultures. Organizations can increase communication effectiveness when they recognize and bridge cultural differences that may contribute to miscommunication.

Culture Allows and Can Get in the Way of Communication

Culture can be defined by group membership, such as racial, ethnic, linguistic or geographical groups, or as a collection of beliefs, values, customs, ways of thinking, communicating, and behaving specific to a group.

As part of a cultural group, people learn communication rules, such as who communicates with whom, when and where something may be communicated, and what to communicate about. Members of a cultural group also learn one or more languages that facilitate communication within the group. Sometimes, though, language can get in the way of successful communication. When people and organizations try to use their in-group languages, or jargon, in other contexts and with people outside the group, communication often fails and creates misunderstanding and barriers to making meaning in a situation.

Doctors, nurses, dentists, epidemiologists, and other public health and healthcare workers belong to professional cultures with their own languages that often aren't the everyday language of most people. When these professionals want to share information, their jargon may have an even greater effect when limited literacy and cultural differences are part of the communication exchange with patients, caregivers, and other healthcare workers. Review the Find Training(<https://www.cdc.gov/healthliteracy/gettraining.html>) section of this website for courses in culture and communication.

Mental Health Self-Directed Care Financing: Efficacy in Improving Outcomes and Controlling Costs for Adults with Serious Mental Illness

Below is an excerpt from a recent article in Psychiatric Times On-Line regarding the value of self-directed care.

Over the past two decades, the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) has promoted use of a consumer-directed, "money follows the person," health care financing approach for use by individuals with a broad range of disabilities. Called self-directed care, this model gives individuals direct control over public funds to purchase health care services, supports, and material goods necessary for them to reside in the community rather than in inpatient or nursing facilities.

Although use of this model to promote the recovery of people with serious mental illness is less common, multiple states are now developing mental health self-directed care initiatives, and interest in this approach is growing. Recently, consumer, advocacy, and service provider communities have called for greater use of self-directed care in mental health, as have federal agencies, including CMS (1), the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (2), and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Office of Disability, Aging and Long-Term Care Policy (3). The purpose of this study was to conduct a randomized controlled trial of a mental health self-directed care program, assessing its effects on participant outcomes, service satisfaction, and service costs.

Objective

Self-directed care allows individuals with disabilities and elderly persons to control public funds to purchase goods and services that help them remain outside institutional settings. This study examined effects on outcomes, service costs, and user satisfaction among adults with serious mental illness.

Methods

Public mental health system clients were randomly assigned to self-directed care (N=114) versus services as usual (N=102) and assessed at baseline and 12 and 24 months. The primary outcome was self-perceived recovery. Secondary outcomes included psychosocial status, psychiatric symptom severity, and behavioral rehabilitation indicators.

Results

Compared with the control group, self-directed care participants had significantly greater improvement over time in recovery, self-esteem, coping mastery, autonomy support, somatic symptoms, employment, and education. No between group differences were found in total per-person service costs in years 1 and 2 or both years combined.

However, self-directed care participants were more likely than control group participants to have zero costs for six of 12 individual services and to have lower costs for four.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

The most frequent nontraditional purchases were for transportation (21%), communication (17%), medical care (15%), residential (14%), and health and wellness needs (11%).

Client satisfaction with mental health services was significantly higher among intervention participants, compared with control participants, at both follow-ups.

Conclusions

The budget-neutral self-directed care model achieved superior client outcomes and greater satisfaction with mental health care, compared with services as usual.

State Legislative Update:

House Creates New Committee Structure to Provide More Debate

The new House Ways and Means Committee will be reviewing and vetting legislation after it leaves its original committee in the coming term to ensure almost every bill receives a second look and further debate before moving to the House floor. The House Judiciary Committee will review and vet legislation from any House committee that creates or changes criminal penalties. The House Appropriations Committee will review and debate any bills that include an appropriation.

Under the new structure, Appropriations, Government Operations, Judiciary, and Ways and Means will be the four committees that can send bills directly to the House floor.

"This new process is going to encourage more debate and give our bills a much stronger look before they hit the House floor, making our state government more responsible and more effective," said Speaker of the House Lee Chatfield. "Criminal justice reform and state budgeting are two critically important areas in particular, and both areas are going to continue to see important reforms. This new process will allow us to make more of a coordinated effort on those specific topics, carefully review how every bill impacts the larger picture and eventually pass better legislation for the people we represent."

House Committee Assignments

Wednesday evening, Speaker of the House Lee Chatfield announced House Committee assignments for the 2019 session year, which can be viewed below.

- Agriculture -- Alexander (Chair), Meerman (Vice Chair), LaFave, Eisen, Mueller, Wendzel, Elder (Minority Vice Chair), Coleman, Garza, C. Johnson, Witwer.

Federal Update:

No Major Impacts' from Shutdown on State Gov't At Least Through Feb. 5

The State Budget Office today said the federal shutdown will have "no major impacts" felt by state government on or before Feb. 5, but if the shutdown continues past Jan. 21, the office will reassess what happens next.

Budget Office spokesperson Kurt Weiss said state government can generally "operate seamlessly" for about 45 days after a shutdown begins, and "we are about halfway through that timeframe as of today," he said.

"Unfortunately, federal shutdowns or talks of federal shutdowns have become all too commonplace, which means we here in the State Budget Office don't start to take it seriously until the federal government shuts down for a prolonged period of time," Weiss said. "Now that the shutdown has continued for several weeks, having started on December 22, our office took the action to complete a statewide assessment of impacts to federal dollars."

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

After the assessment was completed, it was determined "no major impacts" would be felt on state government programs or operations through Feb. 5, according to the Budget Office today. If the shutdown gets to Jan. 21, the state will reassess what happens beyond Feb. 5.

Weiss said nearly 40 percent – or $22 billion – of Michigan's total $57 billion comes through the federal government, and a "prolonged shutdown could have devastating effects for Michigan."

As far as public assistance programs, the feds have already said food stamps will be available through February. The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) today announced it would issue February benefits for food stamp recipients on Jan. 19, as other states are planning on doing.

For child nutrition programs -- including school meals and the Child and Adult Care Food Program -- states already have funding to cover operations for the months of January through March, Weiss said.

And for other feeding programs like Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), the federal government has identified resources to cover projected state expenditures through February.

And while the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program has yet to be reauthorized and has expired with no new funding, Michigan has enough TANF funds to carry forward, along with the first quarter award for Fiscal Year 2019, to last through February 5, 2019.

The Budget Office does have some dates on the calendar where certain state programs could be affected, such as:

- The Housing Choice Voucher program operated by the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) has an anticipated impact beginning Feb. 12.
- Section 8 housing programs operated by MSHDA have anticipated impact beginning March 1.
- Community Development Block Grants operated by the Michigan Economic Development Corp. (MEDC) has an anticipated impact beginning July 1.
- While the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) has enough funding to pay for invoices at this time and no immediate impacts are anticipated, should the shutdown extend into March, cash flow could become a problem.

The Budget Office also found there has been a slowdown in U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) and U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUDS) grants, which has been attributed to furloughed federal workers.

While the programs are still operational, there is "uncertainty about how quickly Michigan will receive the federal funds," Weiss said.

In other shutdown news, U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee (D-Flint Twp.) met with Flint air traffic controllers today who have been working without pay for 24 days, according to a press release.

"I am grateful that local workers took time to talk to me and highlight how the ongoing government shutdown is affecting them and their families," Kildee said in a statement. "Their professionalism showing up to work every day without pay stands in stark contrast to the President's inability to do his job and work with Congress. It is wrong for the President and Congress to punish federal workers over disagreements about the federal budget."

Implementation of Integrated Dual Disorder Treatment (IDDT) and Co-Occurring Evidence-Based Practices Annual Trainings for 2018/2019

Course Description:

Adults with co-occurring mental illness and substance use disorders have far worse outcomes in employment, hospitalization, housing, and criminal justice involvement than their single disordered peers. This co-prevalence has been studied since the 1980s, yet despite this substantive increased risk, most service systems were organized to treat individuals with a single disorder, excluding those with co-occurring disorders, or providing sequential or parallel treatments that were incompatible or in conflict with each other. Integrated services offer superior outcomes to parallel or sequential treatments and call on providers to develop interventions to assist individuals in moving toward recovery for both illnesses simultaneously. Recovery-oriented care requires changes at a systems and individual practitioner level in areas including assessment, treatment planning, and delivery. Integrated co-occurring providers will learn about the research on integrated care including evidence-based practices (EBP), and ways to develop stage-matched assessment, treatment planning, and treatment interventions for adults with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders.

This training fulfills the annual requirement for persons who are part of an IDDT team, as well as for persons providing COD services in Adult Mental Health outpatient services.

HIPAA and Remote Access

Security doesn't have to mean reduced functionality. But it does mean you have to consider a different approach to common tasks. The Remote Desktop Protocol (RDP) is commonly used for remote access and is very quick and easy to setup. Earlier this year, the McAfee Advanced Threat Research team discovered shops on the dark web selling RDP access to systems for as little as $3 and up to $19 each. At the time of discovery, the shop had roughly 17,500 compromised systems for sale with dozens relating to hospitals, nursing homes, and suppliers of medical equipment. It's critical to consult with an IT security expert to ensure your organization is utilizing a secure and compliant remote access system. Reach out to the CMHA to get help today!

Arkansas PASSE Program Readies for Full Risk Capitation

Below is an excerpt from a recent discussion, by Health Management Associates, of the latest development in the Medicaid population carve-out initiative in Arkansas. These developments are of interest to Michigan's public mental health community, in that such population carve outs have been discussed as potential healthcare transformation efforts in Michigan.

This week, our In Focus section reviews Arkansas' Provider-led Arkansas Shared Savings Entity (PASSE) model, scheduled to transition to full risk capitation in March 2019. The PASSE program provides care coordination to improve the health of Medicaid members with behavioral health needs or developmental/intellectual disabilities.

Background

The Arkansas Department of Human Services sought to implement an innovative care model to meet the needs of individuals with behavioral health needs or developmental/intellectual disabilities. A 2015 state analysis found that 74 percent of Medicaid claims were for the aged, blind, and disabled population. Of the approximately 2,900 individuals on the Intellectual and/or Developmental Disabilities (I/DD) waiver waitlist, 2,640 individuals accounted for $32 million in Medicaid costs. Supportive living accounted for 96 percent of spending for individuals receiving I/DD services. The cost of care was rising without improved services outcomes, there was a lack of access to quality services, and a lack of care coordination for populations with high needs.

The Arkansas Legislative Health Care Task Force reviewed multiple proposals and selected the PASSE model. The enabling legislation, Act 775, passed in March 2017.

PASSE Model

Each PASSE functions similarly to an insurance company. Under the model, local providers enter into partnerships with an administrative organization to manage the services of beneficiaries. Each PASSE must include several types of providers:

- Developmental Disabilities Services specialty provider
- Behavioral Health Services Specialty provider
- Hospital
- Physician

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

- Pharmacist

There is not a limit on the number of PASSEs a provider can enter.

The beneficiary is assigned a Care Coordinator, who develops a Person-Centered Service Plan (PCSP) and meets members monthly face-to-face.

Phase I

In Phase I approximately 46,000 members were assessed and assigned to a PASSE. Optum conducted the independent assessments to determine eligibility. From February 1, 2018 through February 28, 2019, PASSEs are providing care coordination to members. This includes medical health services, specialty services, prevention services, health education, and medication management. Services are provided on a fee-for-service basis.

Phase II

Phase II was delayed from January 1, 2019, to March 1, 2019. Arkansas Total Care (Centene), Empower Healthcare Solutions (Beacon Health Options), and Summit Community Care (Anthem) chose to move forward with the program, while ForeverCare Health Plan (Gateway Health Plan) has pulled out. ForeverCare will transition its 7,600 members to a different PASSE.

Beginning March 1, PASSEs will accept full risk for covered Medicaid services for their members. Providers will bill the PASSEs, rather than Medicaid, for services provided. Providers will negotiate rates directly. In exchange, PASSEs will receive a global payment, an actuarially sound payment to cover the entire cost of care, for services. Beneficiary cost sharing will not be permitted.

Eligible Population

The following individuals are covered by PASSEs:

- Individuals receiving services through the DD Waiver (approximately 4,600 individuals)
- Individuals who are on the DD Waiver Waitlist (2,400 individuals)
- Individuals who are in private DD Intermediate Care Facilities (750 individuals)
- Individuals that have a Behavioral Health Diagnosis and have received an Independent Assessment that determines they need services in Tiers 2 or 3 (38,000 individuals) o Individuals in these tiers are eligible for targeted services provided in home/community settings or residential settings in addition to receiving counseling and medication management

Covered Services

PASSEs will cover State Plan Services, Community & Employment Supports, and Arkansas Community Independence Services.

See table below for examples of included services. Please note, this is not an all-inclusive list.

FROM THE BEHAVIORAL HEALTH WORKFORCE RESEARCH CENTER: Characteristics of the Rural Behavioral Health Workforce: A Survey of Medicaid/ Medicare Reimbursed Providers

The Behavioral Health Workforce Research Center recently issued a report on the nation's rural behavioral health workforce. Excerpt from that report are found below.

Key Findings

Researchers at the Behavioral Health Workforce Research Center (BHWRC) sent an online survey to 454 rural behavioral health provider organizations. Of the 35 organizations (7.7%) of the organizations that finished the survey, most were community mental health organizations (n=21, 60.0%) or non-profit organizations (n=10, 28.6%). The average organization had about 115 employees of which support staff, behavioral health specialists, case managers, and mental health counselors made up the largest employee categories. The three highest priorities for new hires were occupational therapists, pharmacists, and nurse practitioners, while the lowest were administrators, managers, and non-masters addiction counselors. These organizations showed signs of not fully integrating behavioral health and primary care services. Policy recommendations include funding more integrated care sites, empowering physician assistants and nurse practitioners to work to their full education/training, and developing rural America's telehealth infrastructure.

State Legislative Update:

Advice and Consent Hearings Start Next Week

The Senate Advice and Consent Committee, chaired by Sen. Peter Lucido (R-Shelby Twp.), is scheduled to get under way next week with hearings planned for both Wednesday and Thursday.

Michigan's Constitution provides the Senate with the power of advice and consent over certain appointments made by the Governor, including every principal department director as well as numerous board and commission appointments.

The committee will meet at 4 p.m. Wednesday, in Room 1100 of the Senate Binsfeld Office Building, to consider the appointment of Paul C. AJEGBA, who has been chosen by Gov. Gretchen Whitmer to be the new Director of the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT). Ajegba has been an employee of MDOT 28 years. He began his career in the department's Engineering Development Program before advancing to Metro Region engineer.

At noon Thursday, the committee will meet in Room 1300 of the Senate Binsfeld Office Building, to consider the appointment of Lisa McCORMICK as Children's Ombudsman Director. McCormick, a long-time criminal prosecutor and child advocate, served 21 years with the Ingham County Prosecutor's Office.

"I am excited for the Senate Advice and Consent Committee to convene and begin reviewing the governor's appointments," Lucido said. "Through the advice and consent process, the committee will help to ensure that Michiganders are well-served by competent individuals in these important, appointed roles. We look forward to this deliberative and thorough process and to work with the Governor's administration to ensure residents get the best from their state government."

Lucido said he intends to hold hearings on all of the Governor's director-level appointees, and that the committee will likely meet twice per week to review the individuals that have been appointed thus far.

Federal Update:

MDHHS Updates Status of Public Assistance Benefits, Medicaid During Partial Federal Government Shutdown

Michigan residents still can apply for and receive Medicaid and public assistance benefits such as food and cash assistance; Women, Infants and Children (WIC); State Emergency Relief and child care reimbursement despite the partial federal government shutdown.

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services is clarifying the status of the programs, which receive federal dollars but are administered by MDHHS.

The state has determined there will be no impact to the availability of benefits through these programs in February even if the shutdown continues. There has been no official determination made on March benefits. "The partial federal government shutdown has understandably created concerns from families that rely on federal safety net assistance administered by MDHHS," said Terrence Beurer, deputy director of Field Operations Administration for MDHHS. "Programs that feed Michigan residents are a primary concern of the State of Michigan, and we have heard misinformation being spread about the immediate impact of the shutdown. We want people to know that MDHHS is prepared to continue to provide this assistance and that funding remains in place through the end of February."

Below are updates on the status of various federally funded programs administered by MDHHS:

Food Assistance Program: MDHHS issued February food assistance payments early beginning on Jan. 17. The federal government asked states to issue the assistance early to ensure that February funding would be available to be issued. Recipients do not need to redeem their benefits in January and MDHHS is urging them to budget their food assistance benefits so they can meet their food needs through the entire month of February.

WIC: Benefits, which include nutritious food for pregnant and postpartum women, infants and children up to age 5, are funded for the month of February and are being distributed according to the normal schedule.

Medical assistance, including Medicaid and Healthy Michigan Plan: Programs are funded through Sept. 30, 2019, the end of the current fiscal year.

Cash assistance: Funding is in place for January and February.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

State Emergency Relief: Funding for energy-related services such as heating assistance is in place to provide benefits through Sept. 30, 2019. Funding for non-energy-related services – such as home repairs and burials – is in place for January and February.

Child Development and Care (child care assistance): Funding is in place through the end of April. Clients who use Bridge Cards to redeem their food and cash assistance and WIC benefits are still able to do so in January and February.

State government generally can operate seamlessly for about 45 days after a federal shutdown begins. With the shutdown now beyond 30 days, the State Budget Office, Gov. Gretchen Whitmer's office and MDHHS are assessing the impact beyond 45 days and into March. Further information will be released as it becomes available.

Anyone who has questions about all programs above other than WIC can find contact information for their local MDHHS office by going to www.michigan.gov/contactmdhhs. Anyone with questions about WIC can find contact information for their local WIC agency by going to www.michigan.gov/wic.

5-Day Comprehensive DBT Trainings

- This training is designed for CMH, CMH service providers, PIHP, and PIHP service provider staff who are directly responsible for delivering DBT.
- Due to the fact DBT is a comprehensive treatment that treats high-risk individuals, one's core training ought to be comprehensive as well.
- IT IS EXPECTED THAT ALL PARTICIPANTS WILL MAKE A FULL COMMITMENT TO ATTEND ALL 5 DAYS mindfully and will participate fully in discussion, role-plays and complete daily homework assignments.
- Participants are asked to bring a copy of "Cognitive Behavioral Treatment of Borderline Personality Disorder" by Marsha Linehan, PhD, with them to the training.
- COMPLETION OF A 2-DAY INTRODUCTION TO DBT TRAINING OR EQUIVALENT IS A PRE-REQUISITE FOR ATTENDING THIS TRAINING.
- This is NOT a training that teaches DBT skills. There will be very little focus on DBT skills. The majority of the focus of this training will be to help clinicians on how to conduct individual DBT sessions. If your goal is to come to this training in order to learn DBT skills, do not attend. By attending, you understand and consent to knowing this ahead of time.

Implementation of Integrated Dual Disorder Treatment (IDDT) and Co-Occurring Evidence-Based Practices Annual Trainings for 2018/2019

Course Description:

Adults with co-occurring mental illness and substance use disorders have far worse outcomes in employment, hospitalization, housing, and criminal justice involvement than their single disordered peers. This co-prevalence has been studied since the 1980s, yet despite this substantive increased risk, most service systems were organized to treat individuals with a single disorder, excluding those with co-occurring disorders, or providing sequential or parallel treatments that were incompatible or in conflict with each other. Integrated services offer superior outcomes to parallel or sequential treatments and call on providers to develop interventions to assist individuals in moving toward recovery for both illnesses simultaneously. Recovery-oriented care requires changes at a systems and individual practitioner level in areas including assessment, treatment planning, and delivery. Integrated co-occurring providers will learn about the research on integrated care including evidence-based practices (EBP), and ways to develop stage-matched assessment, treatment planning, and treatment interventions for adults with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders.

This training fulfills the annual requirement for persons who are part of an IDDT team, as well as for persons providing COD services in Adult Mental Health outpatient services.

Dates/Locations:

April 26, 2019 | Hotel Indigo, Traverse City

June 19, 2019 | Okemos Conference Center

Training Fee:

$65 per person. The fee includes training materials, continental breakfast and lunch.

News from Our Corporate Partners:

American Phone Companies Are Literally Letting Their Networks Fall Apart

Once as important as the American railroad and electrical grid, American phone companies aren't quite what they used to be. The article below addresses some trends our offices are seeing across the country:

Rural areas are still struggling for reliable high-speed connectivity with decaying facilities.

The breakdown and transition of traditional carrier networks from copper to fiber.

The migration of customers from carriers to cable.

Many aging networks, built on taxpayer subsidies, still remain in use and slower expensive DSL can sometimes be the only broadband service available in rural areas.

Many phone companies have attempted to shift their business models toward new, more profitable sectors as the use of copper-based landlines has plummeted over the past few years. As VoIP services became more common in the early 2000's, the nation's phone companies used this surge in voice competition to convince state and federal lawmakers that meaningful oversight was no longer necessary.

With no local competition and local and federal oversight eroded by lobbying, there is often little interest in upgrading their aging networks.

Cable operators certainly appreciate phone companies' apathy. Consumers with an actual choice in broadband providers are fleeing to cable at an unprecedented rate. This shift to cable operators has allowed them to raise their rates, impose arbitrary usage caps, and struggle with customer service.

And while next-gen wireless networks may provide an additional competitive option to some of these neglected customers, wireless won't be a magic bullet for many due to geographical limitations, bandwidth usage restrictions, and potential higher prices.

State and National Developments and Resources:

Special Report: Emergency Rooms Fill Up with Psych Patients — And Then They Wait

Crain's Detroit Business recently published a special report on the lack of access to inpatient psychiatric services, in Michigan and across the country. Below are excerpts from that report.

Throughout emergency rooms in Southeast Michigan, there are patients in the midst of a psychological crisis — and they're waiting, sometimes for days.

And health care organizations report that the amount of time it takes for people to go from diagnosis to being admitted to a hospital psych ward is growing, partly because of shortage of available beds and partly because of growing demand in a state where suicide rates and substance abuse are rising.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

Solutions exist, but they will have to overcome obstacles that have minimized people with those problems, placing them at a lower priority for funding and treatment than those with similar physical conditions such as diabetes, heart disease or cancer.

And the problem goes beyond treating the patients themselves. While waiting in the emergency room, patients may become disruptive, interfering with care for other patients. They sometimes become combative and pose a safety risk for themselves, staff or other patients.

Finally, hours later — studies show 21 hours or more on average in Wayne County for difficult patients — an inpatient psychiatric bed is found that fits their diagnosis.

The long waits are sometimes referred to in the industry as "ER boarding," housing patients for long periods while they wait for an available psychiatric bed.

Lack of a timely admission and even just waiting for a diagnosis also leads to poorer outcomes for behavioral health patients and other patients in the typical ER, Sanford Vieder, D.O., chair of emergency medicine at Beaumont Health, and other experts tell Crain's.

Vieder said that last fall, Beaumont Hospital in Farmington Hills had 16 patients in its ER who waited more than 48 hours each because the hospital had no available psychiatric beds or could not find other hospitals willing to take them. Beaumont has a 25-bed behavioral unit in Farmington Hills and 30 beds in the psych unit at the flagship Royal Oak hospital. They are almost always full. The system operates 87 psychiatric beds and is building a new 75-bed psychiatric hospital in Dearborn. (See story.)

And demand is rising. In 2018, Beaumont's eight hospital ERs saw 18,000 patients with a mental health diagnosis, up 13 percent from 16,000 in 2017.

"The greater the numbers, the greater the stresses on the system," Vieder said. "The unfortunate piece is the ER is a safe place for patients who are having an acute issue, but not the best place for (those with behavioral problems). They may be acting out and violent. We try to separate them out from other patients and make sure they are safe and get them definitive treatment for their specific issues as fast as we can. It is complex because sometimes they have other medical problems."

In more than a dozen interviews with local experts, Crain's found multiple opinions on how long it takes to get insurance approvals and then actual bed placements for psychiatric patients that ranged from eight hours to more than 48 hours, depending on the severity of the patient's condition.

The interviews also uncovered a number of recommended solutions to address the growing numbers of more serious psychiatric patients who are boarded in hospital ERs. They include:

- Standardized procedures where hospitals, agencies and payers evaluate patients the same way and agree on common tests and labs for insurance approval and bed placement.
- Expansion of community mental health crisis centers or psychiatric urgent care centers that can take on some of the patients entering hospital ERs. People would use these centers for walk-in care, or hospitals could transfer medically cleared patients to screening units at the centers to wait for a bed and for treatment, rather than having them sit and wait in an ER.
- Changing certificate-of need bed regulations to force hospitals that "hoard" psychiatric beds and don't staff or operate enough of them to "use them or lose them." This would potentially free up licensed beds for facilities that will use them. Or the state could simply increase the number of psychiatric beds allowed in a region with shortages.
- Creating an online psychiatric bed registry where hospitals would be required to report on open beds and what type of patients they can take, which would speed the process of locating beds for patients.
- Increasing payment for behavioral patients admitted to the hospital and creating more inpatient psychiatric reimbursement codes for patients with worse problems. For example, new psychiatric "ICU" reimbursement level codes could give hospitals a financial incentive to open higher-acuity beds and provide additional revenue for appropriate staffing.

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

- Expanding training programs for psychiatrists, psychologists, psycho-pharmacologists, advanced practice nurses and social workers to staff hospital ERs and crisis centers, and paying higher salaries and expanding benefits for these professionals.
- Developing new technologies to help manage ER clearance and transfer protocols. Expand psychiatric telemedicine programs to get quicker diagnoses, especially in small or rural hospitals that don't have access to in-house expertise.

Marianne Udow-Phillips, executive director with the Center for Health Research and Transformation in Ann Arbor, said the basic problem is behavioral health services are underfunded and there aren't enough available inpatient psychiatric beds for seriously and chronically ill patients.

Udow-Phillips said there is a great need for outpatient crisis centers that can serve people under mental stress. "We need more places people can go before they go to a hospital ER," she said. "The only places doctors can send people is to hospital ERs."

Why hospitals refuse psychiatric admissions

There are other reasons why hospitals refuse to admit some patients.

Hegira Health Executive Director Carol Zuniga said some hospitals are leery about admitting some patients because they "fear it will be difficult to discharge them, especially if they don't have somewhere to live." Hospitals also say their units are not always designed and staffed for the type of patients seeking admission. Or the patient has been at the hospital before and caused damage or attacked staff. "I sense it is an excuse, but I have to empathize with the hospitals," Zuniga said. "Some patients are very difficult people."

Peltzer-Jones agreed that hospitals sometimes refuse to accept psychiatric patients because they are too difficult.

"It is not the diagnosis. We accept patients who are medically sicker. We have medical ICU beds that are staffed two patients for one nurse. No one argues that," she said. "For some reason we don't mimic that for mental health patients. We know patients need more intervention, but we won't fund in the same way."

Hospitals, on the whole, have enough beds for moderately ill patients. "There are not enough beds for patients who have co-occurring problems or those who are highly aggressive," she said.

Vieder agreed. He said hospitals need higher funding levels from all payers. "If insurance companies understood we need more funding for our high acuity patients that would be a big help," he said. "Another is we need more physical beds in Southeast Michigan. That number has declined over the years" after many state psychiatric hospitals closed.

Address the Opioid Use Crisis by Treating Depression

Below are excerpts from a recent article in Behavioral Healthcare Executive, written by Ron Manderscheid, the Executive Director of the National Association of County Behavioral Health and Developmental Disability Directors (of which this association is a board member and officer).

CMHA WEEKLY UPDATE

I have written extensively about the linkage between depression and opioid use and addiction. In these commentaries, I have stressed the causal importance of this linkage, and the role that appropriate treatment of depression can play in addressing our national opioid crisis. Here, I would like to provide a summary of the evidence documenting this linkage, evidence on treatment for these co-occurring conditions, and some recommended actions and next steps.

Peer Respite, Recovery, and Michigan

Peer respites are voluntary, short-term, overnight programs that provide community-based, non-clinical crisis support to help people find new understanding and ways to move forward. They operate 24 hours per day in a homelike environment. Peer respites are staffed and operated by people with psychiatric histories or who have experienced trauma and/or extreme states.

In the 1990's, peer respite homes began forming in upstate New York and other parts of the northeast. Eventually the model spread to California, Georgia, and several other states. Currently 35 peer respite homes exist in 15 states, with the most recent home opening in Toledo, OH, in 2018.

Peer respite homes provide an important part of a comprehensive mental health crisis services continuum as depicted in the graphic below. They exist as a well-aligned component of a recovery-oriented system of care.

TBD Solutions has conducted extensive research on peer respite programs and developed relationships with peer respite providers across the country. In 2018, TBD Solutions provided training and staff development for peers at the newly opened Wellness & Recovery Center in Toledo. TBD also hosted a national "Alternatives to Hospitalization" Conference in October 2018 which included peer respite providers as presenters and attendees.

Since delivering its "National Update on Crisis Services" presentation at the 2018 CMHAM Fall Conference, TBD Solutions has been approached by several CMHs and PIHPs inquiring about the peer respite level of care, and three peer service providers in Michigan have approached TBD Solutions to engage initial discussions on developing peer respite services in Michigan.

TBD Solutions is interested in facilitating further dialogues between interested providers and CMHs/PIHPs to bring peer respite services into Michigan. Contact Travis Atkinson at TravisA@TBDolutions.com, or (616) 228-0762 for further information.

State Legislative Update:

State of the State Date Change

On Tuesday, Governor Gretchen Whitmer announced her first State of the State address has been moved to Tuesday, February 12 at 7:00 p.m. due to President Trump's State of the Union address now being on February 5th.

Michigan Moves to Intervene in Federal ACA Case

Attorney General Dana Nessel, with the support of and in coordination with Gov. Gretchen Whitmer, has filed a motion on behalf of the state to intervene in a federal lawsuit that seeks to defend the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

Joining Nessel were two other newly elected Attorneys General -- Colorado's Philip J. WEISER and Nevada's Aaron FORD -- along with Iowa's Attorney General Thomas MILLER.

The four intervening states are seeking the court's permission to join 16 other states and the District of Columbia in their opposition to the decision of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas that held the ACA, also known as Obamacare, unconstitutional.

As stated in the motion, Michigan, Colorado, Nevada and Iowa "seek to defend the ACA to protect their existing health care infrastructure and the orderly operation of their health care systems, which would be thrown in disarray if the ACA were ruled unconstitutional."

Second Annual Michigan CIT Conference Save-the-Date

Crisis Intervention Teams (CIT) were established in 1988 in response to an officer killing a young man experiencing a mental health crisis. Since that event, crisis intervention teams across the country have formed to develop better ways to actively intervene real time with individuals in a mental health crisis and establish improved community partnerships that support community members to obtain mental health treatment first rather than involvement with the judicial system.

The first annual Michigan CIT conference was hosted by Riverwood Community Mental Health in Berrien County. After this conference, a state collaborative was formed to support Michigan CIT programs and to establish standards for CIT initiatives across the state. The next conference will be hosted by Summit Pointe Community Mental Health in Battle Creek. Law enforcement personnel, corrections personnel, behavioral health professionals, persons living with behavioral health disorders, family members, advocates, judges / court personnel, public defenders / prosecutors and policy makers are encouraged to attend!

Mark your calendars and join us in Battle Creek for the second annual CIT: Crisis Intervention Team Conference October 2-4, 2019. Hear from various presenters on strategies to start your CIT in your community, or ways to improve your existing program. Also, learn more about how CIT is benefiting communities in our state and how to collaborate with other counties. CIT is more than just a training! We look forward to seeing you at our conference as we 'Bring it All Together'. For more information, please email MICITConference2019@gmail.com.

5-Day Comprehensive DBT Trainings

- This training is designed for CMH, CMH service providers, PIHP, and PIHP service provider staff who are directly responsible for delivering DBT.
- Due to the fact DBT is a comprehensive treatment that treats high-risk individuals, one's core training ought to be comprehensive as well.
- IT IS EXPECTED THAT ALL PARTICIPANTS WILL MAKE A FULL COMMITMENT TO ATTEND ALL 5 DAYS mindfully and will participate fully in discussion, role-plays and complete daily homework assignments.
- Participants are asked to bring a copy of "Cognitive Behavioral Treatment of Borderline Personality Disorder" by Marsha Linehan, PhD, with them to the training.
- COMPLETION OF A 2-DAY INTRODUCTION TO DBT TRAINING OR EQUIVALENT IS A PRE-REQUISITE FOR ATTENDING THIS TRAINING.

Implementation of Integrated Dual Disorder Treatment (IDDT) and Co-Occurring Evidence-Based Practices Annual Trainings for 2018/2019

Course Description:

Adults with co-occurring mental illness and substance use disorders have far worse outcomes in employment, hospitalization, housing, and criminal justice involvement than their single disordered peers. This co-prevalence has been studied since the 1980s, yet despite this substantive increased risk, most service systems were organized to treat individuals with a single disorder, excluding those with co-occurring disorders, or providing sequential or parallel treatments that were incompatible or in conflict with each other. Integrated services offer superior outcomes to parallel or sequential treatments and call on providers to develop interventions to assist individuals in moving toward recovery for both illnesses simultaneously. Recovery-oriented care requires changes at a systems and individual practitioner level in areas including assessment, treatment planning, and delivery. Integrated co-occurring providers will learn about the research on integrated care including evidence-based practices (EBP), and ways to develop stage-matched assessment, treatment planning, and treatment interventions for adults with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders.

This training fulfills the annual requirement for persons who are part of an IDDT team, as well as for persons providing COD services in Adult Mental Health outpatient services.
